INTRODUCTION

The Graduate School has prepared this document referred to as Formatting and Style Guidelines for Thesis and Dissertations to assist students in the mechanical details of writing a dissertation or thesis.

A paper submitted to the Graduate School as partial fulfillment of the requirements for a degree must report accurate and original research done by the student. It reflects credit to the student, the chairperson of the student's committee, the committee, the department, and Tennessee State University. The quality of the research and the manner in which the research is presented to the Graduate School are the responsibility of the student, the major advisor (committee chair), and the committee.

The aim of Formatting and Style Guidelines for Thesis and Dissertations is to assist students develop a format that is consistently, attractively, logically, and mechanically correct. Although Formatting and Style Guidelines for Thesis and Dissertations covers most of the general areas in the preparation of a paper, it is by no means complete. It makes no attempt to answer all the specific questions that a student might ask about the preparation of a paper. The student should consult other documents which have been approved by the Graduate School and department in which the student is enrolled.

PARTIAL REQUIREMENTS FOR ADVANCED DEGREES

DISSERTATION

Description

A dissertation is a written report based on original research which is required to achieve the doctoral degree. It should represent a significant and independent contribution to the field of knowledge, have a unified theme, show mastery of the literature and research tools and techniques, and be worthy of publication. The written dissertation and subsequent oral defense should demonstrate the student's ability to conduct independent research and to interpret in a logical manner the facts and phenomena revealed by the investigation (Poje & Franceschetti, 1997; Painter, 1997).

Preliminaries

All doctoral dissertations are to be prepared in accordance with the guidelines and regulations set forth by the Graduate School. After the first enrollment in dissertation credit, students shall continue to enroll in dissertation credit every semester until the dissertation is complete and accepted by the Graduate School. The number of dissertation hours required for the degree is stipulated in the departmental sections of the current edition of the Graduate Catalog. When the student has accumulated the maximum number of dissertation credit hours allowed for a given program, the student shall register for "Dissertation Continuation" at a reduced fee. Students who fail to register each semester will be considered to have terminated their program and must reapply for admission. Registration and verification of registration are the responsibilities of the student and his or her academic advisor.

Preliminary steps for the dissertation include:

1. Successfully completing the Comprehensive/Preliminary Examination. Enrollment in dissertation credits is permitted only after the student has been admitted to candidacy for the doctoral degree.
2. Forming a thesis/dissertation committee by completing the Thesis/Dissertation Committee Appointment Form. The committee must include a chair, and three members. At least three members (chair included) must be members of the department graduate faculty. The other member may be either a graduate faculty member from a closely related discipline or a specialist in the field of the student's minor concentration. All members must have Graduate Faculty Status.
3. Writing a dissertation proposal with the guidance of the thesis/dissertation chair and committee members.
4. Obtaining Research Compliance approval (human subjects, animal care, radiation safety, hazardous materials) according to procedures established by the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs before initiating data collection.
5. Presenting the proposal at a scheduled meeting of the candidate's committee.
6. Gaining approval of the proposal by the committee, which gives candidate the permission to pursue the study described in the proposal.
7. Transmitting a copy of the approved proposal to the Graduate School.
8. Presenting orally and defending dissertation.
9. Upon approval of the content of the dissertation by the committee, the chair of the committee will request a link to the TSU ProQuest ETD site on behalf of the student.
10. The manuscript must be formatted using one of the Graduate School's approved manuals of style. The four approved style manuals are:
 - The American Chemical Society (ACS)
 - Modern Language Association (MLA) 9th <https://www.mla.org/MLA-Style>
 - The Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE)
 - The Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) 7thAdditional style information can be found on the Purdue Online Writing Lab for APA, IEEE, MLA.

NOTE: All other style manuals must be approved by the Graduate School and the Office of Academic Affairs.

Dissertation Credits

The candidate must enroll in Dissertation Research continuously until the dissertation is completed and accepted by the Graduate School.

Dissertation Defense

The dissertation defense is required of all candidates for the doctoral degree. The outcome of the defense should be acceptable to the voting members of the candidate's committee.

THESIS

Description

A thesis is a written scholarly presentation of independent research or study that is submitted as a partial fulfillment of requirements for an advanced degree (Painter, 1997). It's the result of a substantial piece of research and scholarly writing executed with a high level of autonomy under the guidance of chair and a committee (Blair, 2016).

Preliminaries

Before writing the master's thesis, the student:

1. Must be admitted to candidacy.
2. Select a Guidance Committee. The committee must include a chair, and two members. At least two members (chair included) must be members of the department graduate faculty. The other member may be either a graduate faculty member from a closely related discipline or a specialist in the field of the student's minor concentration. This committee shall give general supervision to the candidate's research and thesis writing.
3. Enroll in Thesis Writing. After the first enrollment, the candidate must continue to enroll in Thesis Writing until the thesis is completed and accepted by the Graduate School.
4. If applicable, obtain research compliance approval (human subjects, animal care, radiation safety, hazardous materials) according to procedures established by the Office of Sponsored Research Website, before initiating data collection.
5. Write a thesis proposal. A proposal for the thesis is a formal process which involves a hearing before the advisory committee, and which results in filing the appropriate proposal form with the graduate school. The proposal form must be signed by all members of the advisory committee.
6. A reduction in fees for thesis registration occurs the second time a student registers, at which time the student registers for the "Thesis Continuation" section. A break in registration will result in "I" grades for Thesis hours becoming grades of "F".
7. Present orally and defend thesis.
8. The chair of the committee will request a link to the TSU ProQuest ETD site on behalf of the student upon approval of the content of the thesis by the committee.

9. The manuscript must be formatted using one the Graduate School's approved manuals of style. The four approved style manuals are:
- The American Chemical Society (ACS)
 - The Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE)
 - Modern Language Association (MLA) 9th <https://www.mla.org/MLA-Style>
 - The Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) 7th
- Additional style information can be found on the Purdue Online Writing Lab for APA and IEEE.

The dedication is a brief statement or note dedicating the thesis or dissertation to someone in token of affection or esteem. Usually, students' express appreciation to their families (nuclear and extended), their spiritual traditions, spouses, or parents. Since it is usually a no more than two or three lines, center the word Dedication in Title Case, Bold, and Centered. (limited to one page)

Acknowledgements

In this section, acknowledge those who have been helpful during your matriculation and thesis or dissertation research process. Before deciding to include this section, determine your specific indebtedness to others for information and assistance. The signatures usually adequately recognize the committee members and the major advisor on the approval page.

However, if they have given more than the required assistance, they should be tactfully and specifically acknowledged. The acknowledgments should be brief. Type the word Acknowledgements in Title Case, Bold, and Centered.

Start the content of acknowledgements one space below the title.

Step 2: You'll need to determine whether to submit an EXEMPT or a non-EXEMPT application. See the checklist below to help you determine the type of review for your Application Packet. You'll need to have a clear understanding of the research activities and population involved before making this decision. If you're still not sure after completing the checklists, please contact IRB Administration at irb@tnstate.edu.

All instruments used to collect data, including list of interview questions and the actual surveys, should be included in the IRB Application Packet along with your training certificate. Letters of Cooperation and Letters of Permission should be typed on institutional letterhead and scanned to your computer. If your research involves collecting data at another institution or in partnership with another institution, you should include documentation.

- IRB Application
