This pattern assumes a 2-course load per semester, which many students prefer. Students who want a different courseload or timeline should seek advising before selecting any courses to ensure the desired pattern is likely to work. Please be aware that course offerings are contingent on enrollment and staffing (particularly in summer).

You can start the program in any semester.

Complete your program of study with your advisor before starting your second semester in the program. In general, checking in (even by phone or email) with your advisor is good EVERY semester to stay "on track."

NOTE: This set of 6 courses (18 credits) is required for all students admitted for Spring 2017 and thereafter.

*Students admitted and enrolled in coursework prior to Spring 2017 have a five-course certificate requirement (15 credits) instead (6190; 6950; 6970; 6960; 6980). Students enrolled prior to Spring 2017 therefore do not have to take PADM 6390 Ethics to meet the certificate requirements. All students should seek advising prior to every semester to ensure course choices are appropriate.
