DR. MERL R. EPPSE

Should you travel from here to Timbuctoo you will, more than likely, find alumni of the University and former residents of the city who will ask after the health of affable Merl R. Eppse.

Dr. Eppse, whose 29 years of teaching at Tennessee State have created for him an ever-increasing line of friends, is the recipient of innumerable honors and citations too numerous to list on a page of Yearbook dedication.

A former bank clerk, soldier, postal clerk, rural school teacher and college dean, Dr. Eppse has written three histories on the Negro American which have been adopted as official textbooks in the public schools of several states and are even now being used in many classrooms.

He has become a public figure whose "down-to-earth" addresses before any number of local and out-of-state cultural and religious groups have rendered him a much sought-after personage.

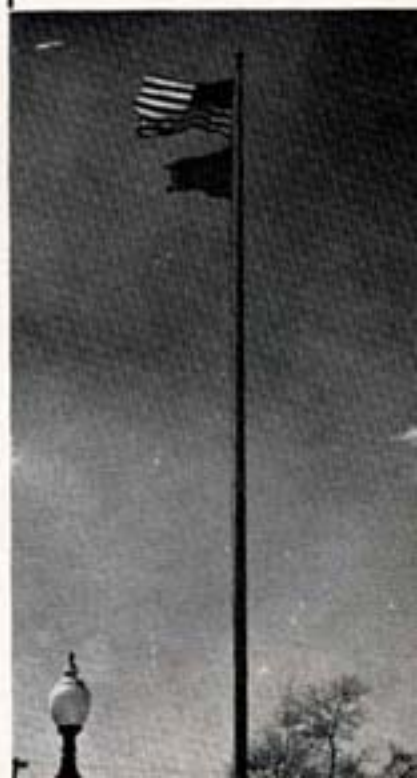

A fun-loving character who has, on occasion been known to "scare-the-daylights" out of unsuspecting freshmen our history and geography department head is not unlikely more "bark" than "bite."

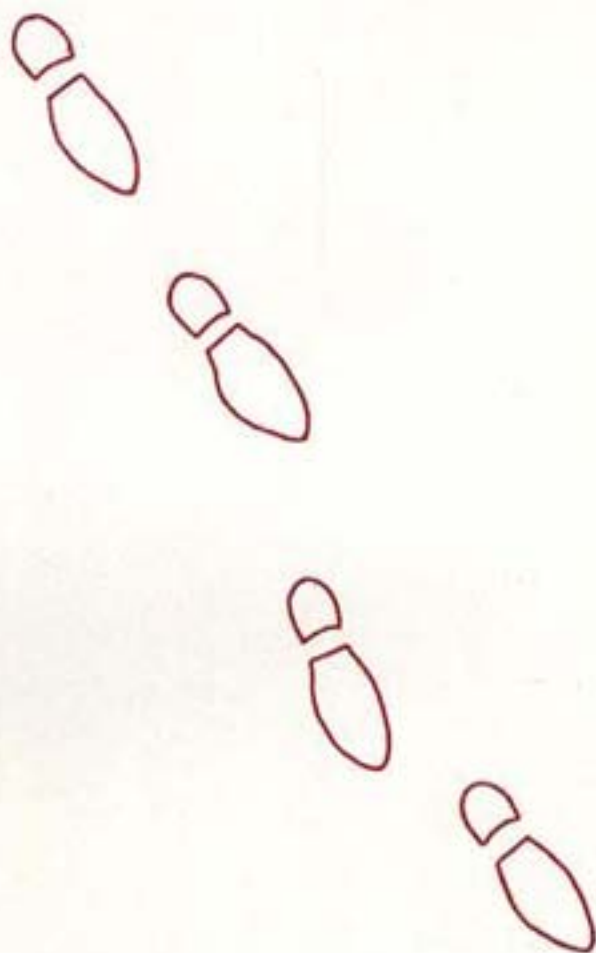

Because he exemplifies the epitome of unaffected intelligence and because his is a life rich with the activities that are a living proof of noteworthy and zealous ideals, the 1957 TENNESSEAN is lovingly dedicated to Dr. Merl R. Eppse, historian, teacher, FRIEND.

The Governor of Tennessee

On each of his visits to the campus Tennessee's number one citizen is very generous with his autograph.

The Governor speaks

The Honorable Frank G. Clement gained national recognition last summer as key-note speaker at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago. A Christian, a leader, and a family man, these attributes are apparent in every gesture of our youthful Governor. He has come to be recognized as a man of action, not only locally but on the national scale as well. A key figure in the State Legislature, his dynamic personality and intelligent ingenuity have wrought noteworthy progress in the affairs of the State of Tennessee including a general face-lifting of the capital city as well as scholastic progress and advanced building programs in the State's institutions of learning. He has gained, and continues to hold, the respect of every member of the Ayeni family.

THE HONORABLE FRANK G. CLEMENT
Governor of Tennessee

Dr. W. S. Davis, President of Tennessee Agricultural and Industrial State University at Nashville.

Tennessee State's President

"For twenty-five years of distinguished service . . ." $5,000 in savings bonds, a plaque, and other gifts go to W. E. Turner (left). President Davis does the honors on behalf of Tennessee teachers.

Now beginning his fourteenth year as head of the University, our erudite President, Dr. W. S. Davis, might fittingly be called, "The Builder."

During his incumbency faculty, students and alumni have seen the institution grow from a college into a university. Thirteen years of constant planning have brought about a change in the University's skyline with the addition of six new buildings and another is to be started in the very near future.

The athletic champions who have been built under Dr. Davis' watchful eye as president of the University have made names for themselves on an international scale.

Students and faculty alike accept his as worthwhile and experienced counsel not to be taken lightly.

It is with pride that we point to our own President Davis as a builder of buildings, a builder of champions and a builder of character.

The "apple of his eye," and the "light of his life," respectively, are thirteen year old Ivan and the first lady of the campus, Mrs. Davis.

Vice President

Dr. Alger V. Boswell is a man whose easy, casual gait belies his active nature. Not prone to procrastinate on any situation that needs his attention, the "veep" will get the job done or see to it that it gets done.

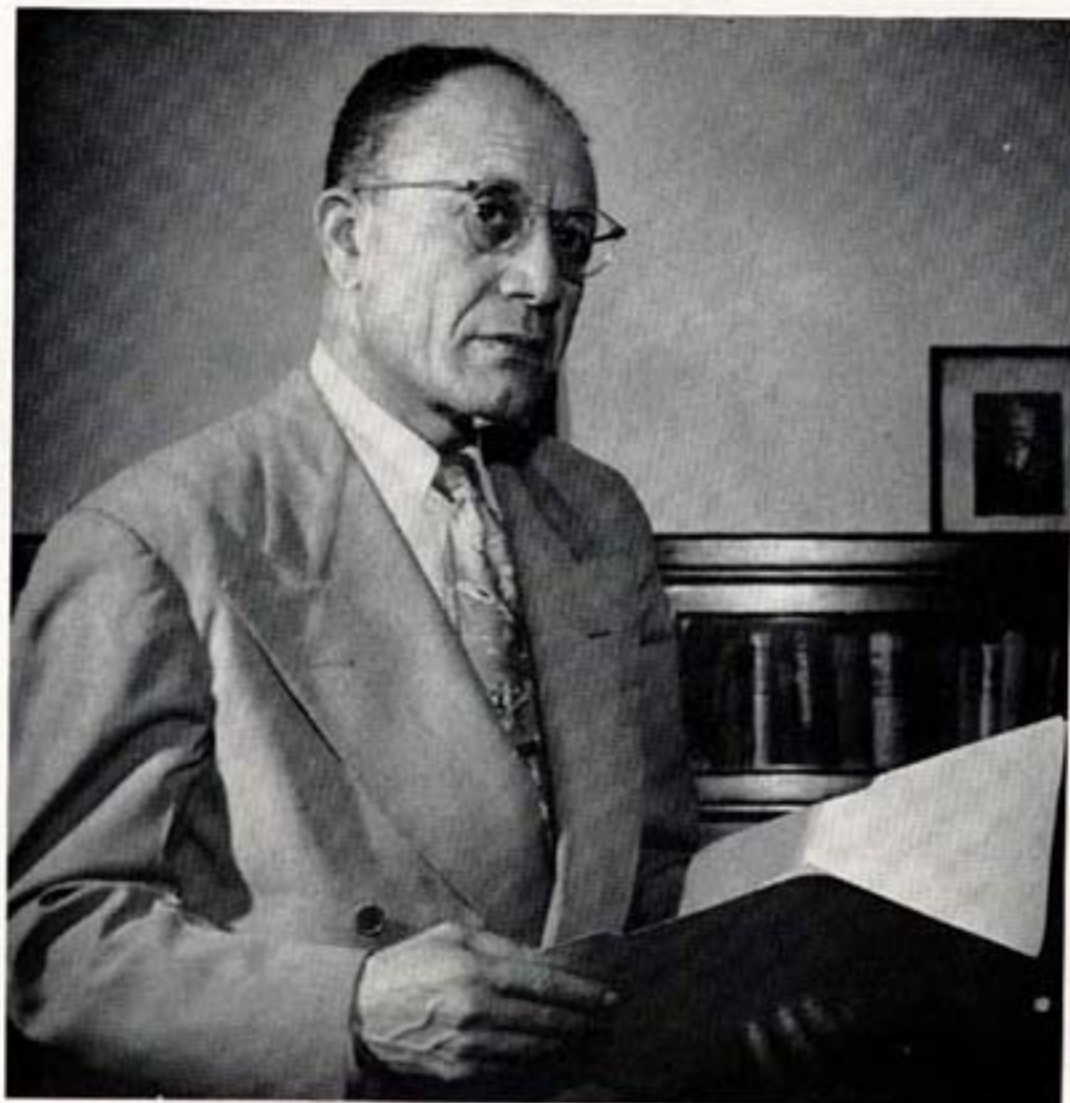

Dr. Boswell is what one might call a "hale fellow well met." He knows no strangers and is never too busy or in too much of a hurry to pass the time of day with any student, faculty member or campus visitor whom he might come upon on his sojourns across the campus.

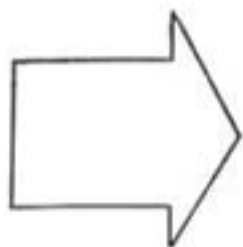

The Vice President will tell you himself that he is not fond of public speaking. Despite this dislike he is called upon again and again by groups who have benefited in the past from one of his well-phrased talks.

Easy to see and easy to know, it is no wonder that the traffic in the office of the Vice President makes it sometimes resemble a little Grand Central Station.

DR. ALGER V. BOSWELL

Naturally we'll REMEMBER each other

Students

REMEMBER the hustle and bustle of Freshman Week and how anxious we were to show 'em the ropes?

Freshman Week

When the class of '60 blew into town they represented the largest freshman group ever in the University's history.

A freshman arrives by taxi to begin the rush of activities that mark Freshman Week.

After the long trip from home, the dormitory is a welcome sight for weary freshmen.

Firmly settled in dormitories and homes about the city, freshmen find excitement in the strange new process of registration.

Memorable Freshman Week Activities

The Freshmen are banquetted . . .

These freshmen give evidence of knowing what the well-dressed picnicker should wear—to the freshman picnic, of course.

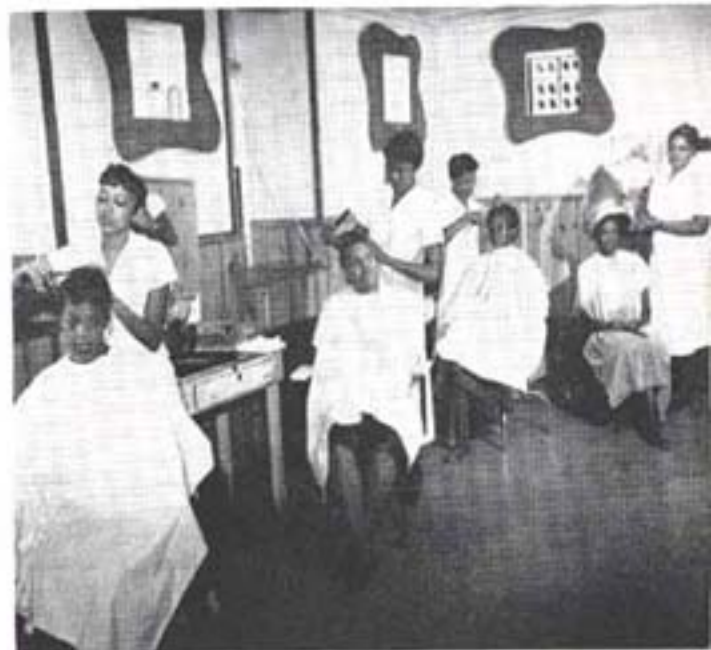

. . . and the freshmen are tested.

We REMEMBERED to study (after all that's the main reason for our being in college)

Departmental Activities

Agronomy

Students of agronomy spend a good deal of their time in the agronomy laboratory as well as in the field. They become acquainted with some of the known principles and relationships existing between the farmer and the soil, soil and plants, plants and man, soil and climate, natural flora and nutrient level, temperature relations to fertility level, structure to moisture level and other interrelated physical characteristics.

Animal Husbandry

Courses in animal husbandry are designed to give instruction in the principles of livestock production and management, sanitation and health, processing and caring for animal products.

Biochemistry

Graduates of the biochemistry curriculum are prepared for the study of veterinary medicine. The department also offers instruction to students in other science departments who are interested in introductory courses in biochemistry.

Horticulture

The Department of Horticulture is primarily a service unit for students majoring in the Area of Agriculture. Students of the department may specialize either in fruits and vegetables or in ornamental horticulture and floriculture.

Poultry Husbandry

Students of Poultry Husbandry are prepared, in the classroom, for the successful operation of poultry enterprises. Majors in the department are urged to pursue courses in bacteriology, organic chemistry, biochemistry, embryology, genetics, and physiology.

Air Science

The purpose of the AFROTC is to develop in prospective college graduates the qualities of leadership and other attributes essential to their progressive advancement to positions of increasing responsibility in both military duties and in civil enterprise.

Art

Art Students are guided in the understanding of the importance of art experience in public school education and life in general. Courses in painting, drawing, pottery, clay modeling, and art appreciation may be pursued in the department.

Biology

Courses in the Department of Biology are designed to fulfill the requirements in the areas of preservice teacher training, preprofessional training for the medical branches, service courses for other departments at the University, and graduate instruction and research in zoology.

Business Administration

Students planning careers in accounting, insurance, finance, marketing, real estate, salesmanship, and other business pursuits find courses in business administration designed to prepare them for graduate study and professional training in their chosen areas.

Chemistry

Students of chemistry get individual attention in their quest for knowledge in the field. The department offers a major in chemistry, service courses to other departments in the University and a graduate program of instruction and research.

Business Education

The program of instruction in the Department of Business Education prepares teachers of business subjects and professional secretaries. The department is a member of the National Association of Business Teacher Training Institutions.

Economics

Training and orientation in the problems of economic analysis are provided undergraduate students who pursue courses in economics.

Elementary Education

In preparation for positions as teachers, students of elementary education are required to practice teach in city or rural teaching situations. Moses McKisack school of which Mrs. W. S. Davis is principal is one of the Nashville city schools where A. & I. students of elementary education are allowed to gain this experience.

Secondary Education

The program of the Department of Secondary Education is designed to prepare students for teaching on the secondary school level. Practice teaching in the field of his or her choice at an accredited high school is a requirement. Many of our students do their practice teaching at Nashville's Pearl High.

English

All students of the University are required to take English courses during the freshman and sophomore years. Advanced courses may be pursued by those students planning careers in journalism, speech, or teaching in the field.

Architectural Engineering

Courses in Architectural Engineering are designed to develop technical knowledge and insight into architecture in order to meet the highest professional standards.

Mechanical Engineering

Mechanical Engineering students learn design, construction, selection, operation, and maintenance of machines. Graduates of the Department may also find opportunity to exercise their abilities in the operating management and sales activities of industry.

Civil Engineering

Conception and design, construction are the two phases involved in Civil Engineering which is the oldest branch in the engineering profession. The curriculum is arranged so that students receive training in the basic principles of mathematics and science and in engineering applications.

Metallurgical Engineering

In the Department of Metallurgical Engineering Research, production and sales afford excellent opportunities for the student of the area. The subjects of process metallurgy and metal processing are particularly stressed.

Electrical Engineering

The graduate in electrical engineering is equipped to take his place as a junior engineer with either industry or government. He is also prepared to study at the graduate level in preparation for a career in research.

Aviation Education

The curriculum in aviation education is designed to meet requirements of the Tennessee State Department of Education for certification as a public school teacher. It covers material in the areas of Theory of Flight, Flight techniques, Meteorology, Navigation and specialized training.

Industrial Education

Diversified courses in Industrial Education such as refrigeration are offered to students for the preparation and upgrading of prospective teachers of industrial arts and education.

Vocational Technical Training

Vocational Technical Training courses are offered in the Department of Industrial Arts. Students may specialize in welding, foundry, masonry, sheet metal work, upholstery, woodwork, plumbing, etc.

Child Development

The Nursery School is a laboratory for providing experiences in observing and guiding young children. A major in the department prepares students for work with pre-school children in nursery schools, day care centers, child care agencies, or private homes.

Clothing and Textiles

Clothing and Textiles students learn the arts of construction and design for personal and business use. Courses are designed to furnish the student with a thorough knowledge of clothing from the standpoints of comfort, economy, and eye-appeal.

Foods and Nutrition

Objectives of the Department of Foods and Nutrition are to develop in each student a sound, basic, up-to-date knowledge in the fields of foods and nutrition; to give students the ability to interpret these basic facts and to apply sound judgment to their actual translation and to give students the skills and techniques required to apply these basic principles to methods of preparation.

Home Arts and Mechanics

Wood Crafts are studied by students in the Department of Home Arts and Mechanics. They learn the basic procedures in making interesting and useful household items.

Home Management

Opportunity is offered the student of Home Management to study the management of such human material resources as time, energy, home furnishings, equipment and personal qualities necessary for the achievement of family goals. Residence in the Home Management House is required.

History and Geography

Students of History and Geography enjoy informal discussions with many lecturers who visit the campus for the express purpose of talking to them. Instruction in the department is designed to present the main aspects of the rise and development of civilization.

Library Service

Library Service courses at the University are designed to meet the requirements necessary for librarianships on the elementary and secondary school levels.

Music

The courses of study in the Department of Music are designed to provide experiences leading to general culture, sound musicianship, adequate performance ability and the science and art of teaching.

Modern Foreign Languages

Students of Modern Foreign Languages may specialize in French, Spanish, or German. Majors and minors in the Department take all three. Other students are invited to take elective courses in the area.

Mathematics

Mathematics courses at the University are offered to satisfy the basic mathematics requirements of other departments as well as to train prospective teachers of the subject to the satisfaction of the requirements listed by the State Department of Education.

Physical Education

These students of Physical Education are proficient on the hand ball court as they are in many other departmental sports available to them such as tennis, golf, badminton, bowling, volley ball, basketball and shuffleboard. Theory and activity courses are conducted in these subjects as well as in body conditioning and dancing. Courses in health and recreation are offered by the department also.

Physics

Courses in physics have been designed to serve the needs of students who wish to pursue the study of physics as a major; those who require physics as a part of their pre-professional training and those majoring in the sciences or mathematics to whom the knowledge and techniques of physics are desirable adjuncts.

Political Science

Political Science courses prepare students for teaching and for investigative positions in the field of government service. Here is also acquired a good basic background for the student whose intention it is to specialize in social science or law.

Psychology

Under skilled supervision the students of psychology learn various testing devices used in the field. A student may major in the field or pursue courses in psychology as a background for other fields such as medicine, personnel work or social work.

Sociology

Classes in Sociology provide a systematic framework for understanding the nature of human relationships while students are being trained for employment in civil service, teaching, community organizations and research.

Social Administration

Students of Social Administration are provided with an introductory knowledge of the principles, skills, and human behavior necessary for graduate study in social work and essential to the practice of social work in public and private welfare agencies.

Science Education

The program of the Department of Science Education is designed to meet the needs of those students who wish to qualify for secondary school science teaching, those who desire to fulfill requirements for entrance into professional schools, and those from other curricula who wish to take service courses in the area of science education.

Speech and Drama

Students of Speech and Drama are trained in the dramatic arts. The Department offers service courses for non-majors who are interested in speech improvement, and dramatics as a cultural leisure-time activity.

Drama Production

Students of speech and drama also get instruction in the technical processes of drama production. Under the direction of W. D. Cox, II students learn the techniques of lighting, scenery design, makeup and costume.

REMEMBER the frenzy at election time—and the chosen ones?

Student Elections

Student elections on the campus are conducted each year under the supervision of the Political Science Department. Candidates for the highest offices of President and Vice-President of the Student Council and for "Miss Tennessee State" are nominated by the students and presented to the student body in the University auditorium.

Campaign speeches are listened to with avid interest. Each nominated candidate presents his platform to the student body amidst the informal atmosphere of an outing near the campus lakes. Students have the opportunity to use official, electrically operated voting booths to cast their ballots.

Freckled and sweet, Mary Jean is a Texas rose and an AKA Soror.

Miss Mary Jean Booth

Mary Jean plants a daintly shod foot on the terra firma of her "Kingdom" to begin a one-year reign as Queen of the campus.

And after the books—a session with TV is next on the agenda for "Miss Tennessee State."

Miss Tennessee State

Student Council President

. . . and shakes hands with Southern U's student council presy, Grady Poulard.

Robert Xavier Williams

Bob is an Alpha and he hails from Memphis, Tennessee.

Pittsburgh's Shirley has a disposition that's as lovely as she looks.

Miss Shirley Ann Parker

Shirley is awed by the mannerisms of internationally famous model Dorothea Towles . . .

. . . and Shirley is kissed by handsome "Mr. Esquire."

Miss Charm

Mr. Esquire

Harold dances with the first lady of the campus . . .

. . . and Harold dissects a cat

Harold West

Nashvillian Harold is an Alpha. He's also a six-foot-four 200 pounder.

This Halls, Tennessee beauty is a member in good standing of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Miss AFROTC smilingly awaits the start of the Homecoming parade as she perches prettily atop the back seat of a convertible . . .

Miss Marian Lucille Watson

. . . and she smilingly and obligingly charms the football Tigers at an informal affair at the Rec Hall.

Miss AFROTC

Mr. AFROTC

Van gallantly escorts "Miss AFROTC" to her place of honor . . .

. . . and converses with fellow officers.

Van Robinson

Van is a cadet lieutenant colonel in AFROTC Detachment 790. His home is Miami, Florida and he's an Omega.

Well-liked by classmates and almost unbelievably unaffected, Dorothy's home town is Charleston, Tennessee.

Miss Dorothy Wood

Dorothy, second from left on the first row, poses with schoolmates for official Who's Who photograph . . .

. . . and Dorothy finds time away from her busy academic schedule to put in hours as clerical assistant to Mrs. A. Dunn Jones.

Miss Brains

Mr. Brains

Walter was elected to the vice presidency of the Student Council . . .

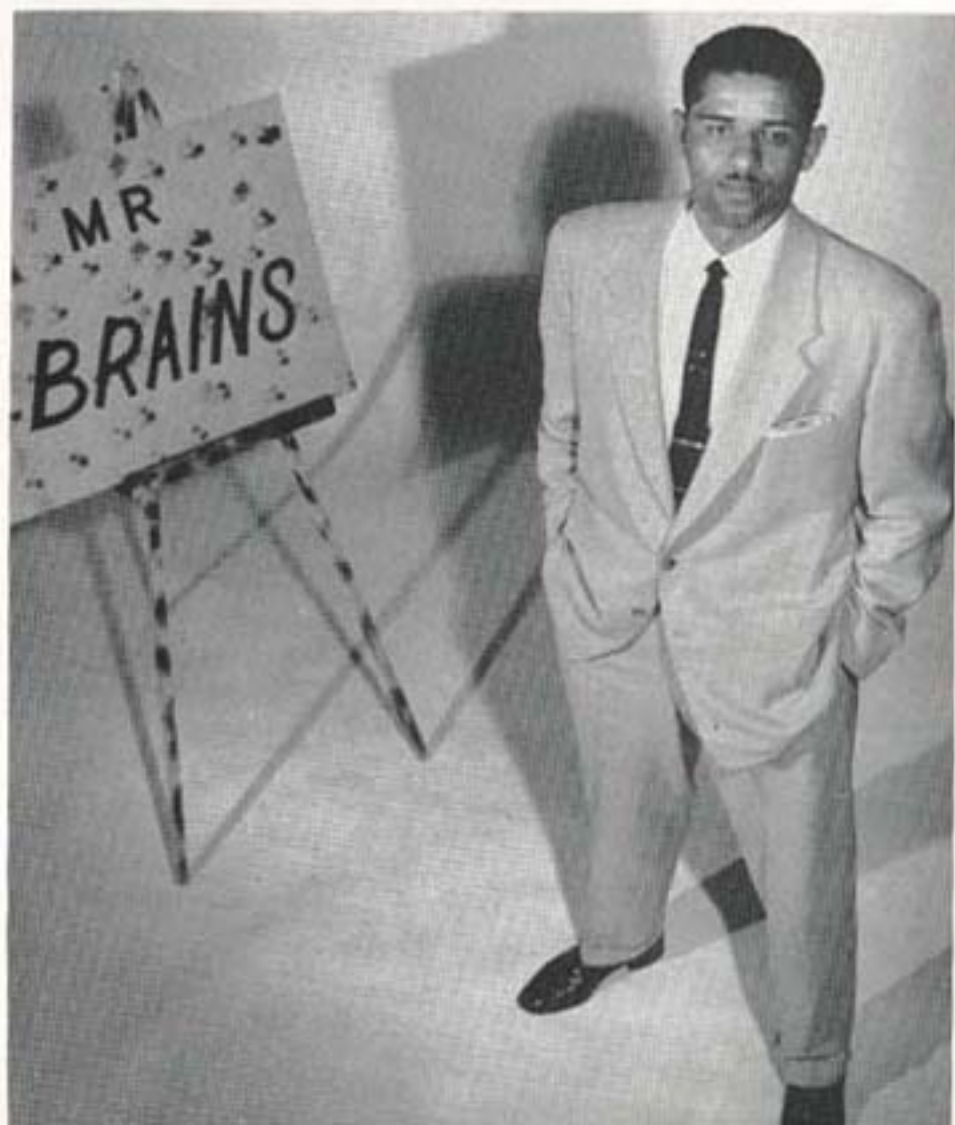

. . . and Walter was nominated to the captaincy of the Baseball Team.

Walter Caldwell

Pulaski, Tennessee's Walter Caldwell is a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

REMEMBER the Yearbook Staff—
How hard they worked? How much fun they had?

Year Book Staff

LEON MONTGOMERY
Yearbook Editor

Experience necessary—and Leon Montgomery has that experience from his previous years' association on the staff of the TENNESSEAN. His knowledge of what is expected of a yearbook staff and his untiring efforts in the endeavor of tying up loose ends were a boon to the complete production of this year's book. And through it all "Gomey" never once lost his temper or felt that any obstacle was too tough to tackle and surmount.

The Advisers

DR. WILLIAM L. CRUMP

Adviser to The Yearbook

The Director of Public Relations and University Press is the real power behind the throne when it's yearbook time. Dr. Crump will tell you that this is all the time for long before the yearbook staff is selected he is meeting with the publishers and deciding the fate of the next year's book. Many times conferences on next year's book dovetail with conferences on this year's.

ANN WILLIAMS BELL Co-Adviser to The Yearbook

She conducts weekly meetings with the staff, schedules pictures for photographers, edits the editors and gets headaches in the bargain.

The Photographers

THEOPHILUS DANZY
Yearbook Photographer

GEORGE HILLMAN
Yearbook Photographer

EARL S. CLANTON, III
Advisor to Yearbook Photography

Clanton, III not only advises—he shoots. With a battery of cameras, film, flashbulbs and other camera equipment along with a head full of gimmicks you might find him working dead into the night and on into the wee sma' hours of the morning in an effort to meet the deadline. No less effort is put forth by the people he advises.

*Guys and Dolls,
 Alias YB Editors*

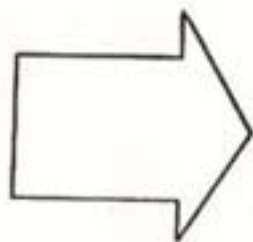

IT'S THE END!!—And Susie, Quinester, and Tillie are just too pooped to pop as are all the other yearbook staffers, photographers, and advisers.

Sometimes if you've got two pretty good prints it's hard to decide which one to use in the yearbook. Sonda Morris likes this one but Bennett Smith, Harold Winfrey and Shirley Parker like that one.

Dot, Ethel, Gensie and Al decide that four heads are better than one when it's time to select pictures from the files to fit spaces in the YB "dummy."

It's exciting to REMEMBER—Iturbi and Anderson both the same year! !
And those wonderful choir and drama productions! ! !

Programs and Lyceum

Ushers lined up after the Concert to secure the autograph of the great piano virtuoso José Iturbi. The first Lyceum attraction of the school year, the Iturbi concert attracted music lovers from all over the city.

A cross section of Nashville citizenry had the opportunity to meet and chat with Iturbi at a reception in the home of Dr. and Mrs. William L. Crump after the concert.

President and Mrs. W. S. Davis chat with José Iturbi in his dressing room during intermission of the November 7 concert in the HPER Building.

Metropolitan Opera Star Marian Anderson, as usual, thrilled a capacity crowd in the University's gymnasium with the golden richness of her memorable voice.

Lyceum

Robert Churchwell of the Nashville Banner, M. W. Day of the Nashville Globe and David Hollenstein of the Nashville Tennessean were granted interviews with Miss Anderson at a press conference in the President's home.

An exquisitely gowned Marian Anderson bows graciously before her appreciative audience.

Typical of Marian Anderson attracted audiences is this one in the University gymnasium which was still in the process of arriving when the picture was made.

The great singer was entertained at a reception by members of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Chorally Speaking

Music hath charm . . .

Under the direction of Eddie T. Goins the University Meistersingers sing for special programs and banquets on the campus. The group is well known throughout the Southeast and made three trips during the 1956-57 school year.

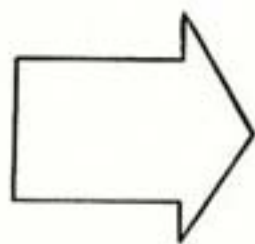

The University Choir furnishes music for Sunday morning worship services. Local music lovers look forward to the choir's special Christmas and Easter productions. Dr. F. C. Lewis is the director and Samuel Jackson the accompanist.

Dramatically Speaking

One major production by the Tennessee State Players Guild that received rave notices from local drama critics was Arthur Miller's "The Crucible."

The acting ability of student players was superb in the comedy—"Time Out for Ginger" by Ronald Alexander. Dr. Thomas E. Poag directs the plays staged by the Guild.

REMEMBER the times we put down the welcome mat and rolled out the red carpet?

Campus Visitors

The Honorable Frank G. Clement, Governor of the State of Tennessee tells a joke to the delight of others at the speakers table during the Legislative Banquet.

Legislative Banquet

Governor and Mrs. Clement exchange small talk with friends and acquaintances at the University cafeteria on banquet night.

Every two years the University plays host to members of the Tennessee Legislature in the form of a banquet in the University Cafeteria. Cafeteria personnel prepared for 700 for the 1957 affair. Legislators look forward to this relaxing activity after many sessions with the business of government and law.

Dr. Zelma Watson George (right), was investigator in bringing Fred Astaire Dance Studio teachers Pat Ryan (left) and Frank Pagliaro to Tennessee State.

Tanganyika East Africa's Miss Pelham Johnson (left) was interested in the Hobby Craft classes of Miss Frances Thompson (center) when she visited the campus during the summer months.

Fernando Derrnandes of Havana, Cuba was in Nashville as an exchange news analyst to WSM-TV. Students will always remember his visit to the campus.

TOP: Anna Arnold Hedgeman, assistant to New York's Governor Robert Wagner was made an honorary citizen of the State of Tennessee by Governor Clement. Mrs. Hedgeman was speaker during Religious Emphasis Week on the campus.

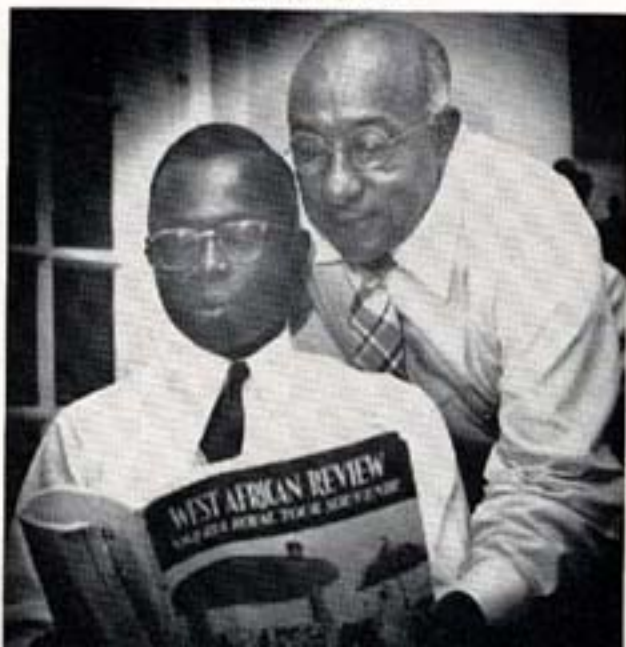

The one and only Gordon Parks of Life Magazine photographed material for the National publication on A. and L.'s campus.

Montgomery, Alabama's Rev. Martin Luther King was popular with students on his visit to the A. and L. campus during the Winter Quarter.

Campus Visitors

Personality and beauty visited the campus in the person of Miss Maxine Perryman (shown here with President Davis). She was the year's Miss Spirit of Cotton Makers Jubilee.

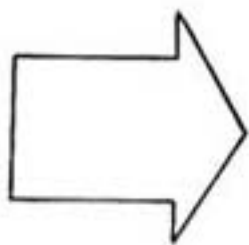

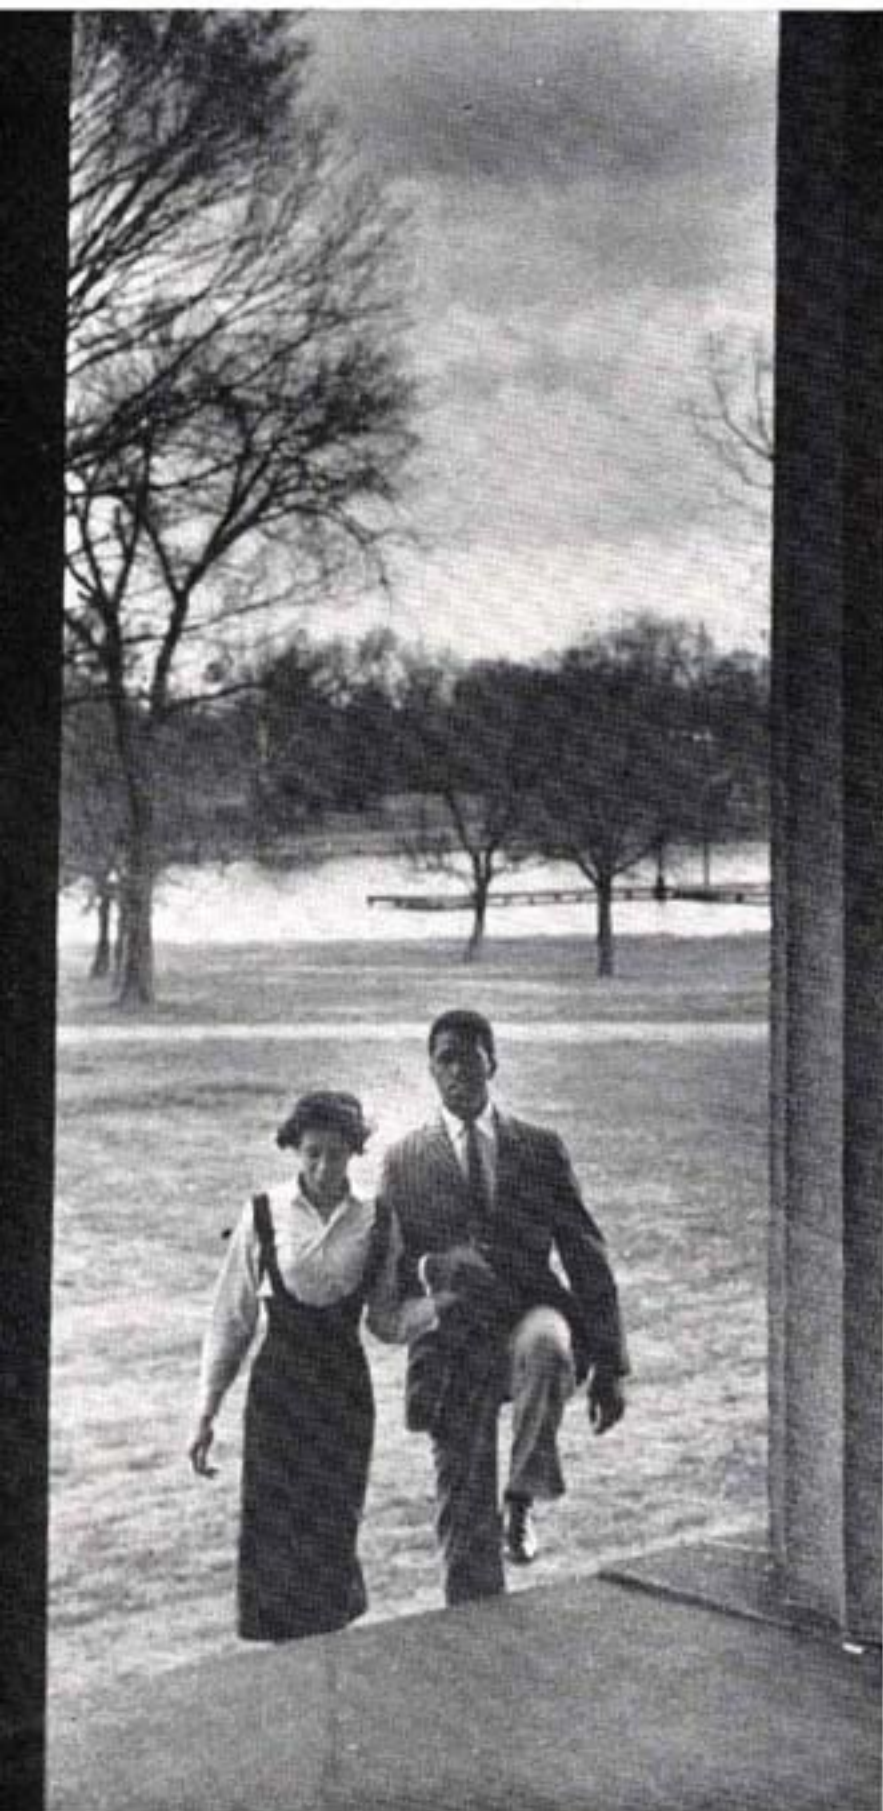

TOP: Mrs. Louise Prothro (right) gave home economics faculty and students the benefits of her professional experience as home economist for the Pet Milk Company when she visited here. CENTER: French students on a tour of the States visited the campus last summer and will be remembered for their jocular-ity. BOTTOM: The Indonesian students will long remember their tour of the farm area and A. and I. students will long remember them.

ANTA executive Willard Swire gave drama students many pointers to remember when he visited the campus in March.

A lot of us will remember with delight, 13 year old Lloyd Ringgold's thrilling first experience of handling a day old call on the campus farm. Lloyd is from Pittsburgh.

Mohammed Ali Fahoum (center) of Israel on a good will tour of the States visited on the campus in the company of Vanderbilt law student Benjamin Egutsky and senior political science major Wilbert Davis.

Sometimes it's hard to REMEMBER who did what at which, but we'll REMEMBER every one of them.

Workshops and Conferences

Hair beauty becomes a reality at the hands of nationally known cosmetologist Margaret West who gave local and State beauticians professional pointers in the art during the Cosmetology Institute.

Governors galore were in evidence at the Annual Boys' State held on the campus. Former Tennessee Governor Jim McCord congratulates the incumbent Boys' State Governor in the presence of the previous year's Governor of Boys' State while other representatives to the annual affair look on approvingly.

Health, head, heart and hand are uppermost in the minds of these young 4-H Club members as they attend the Annual State meeting of that organization on A. and L.'s Campus.

The Methodist Training School headed by the Rev. Julius Johnson held its classes on the University campus.

Members of the New Farmers of America find A. and I.'s farm area just the place to pick up pointers on livestock, poultry, and cattle judging.

At the Principals' Conference held annually on the Tennessee State campus principals of schools throughout the State hear timely lectures from learned educators. They later have time for presenting anecdotes of their own problems to the Conference.

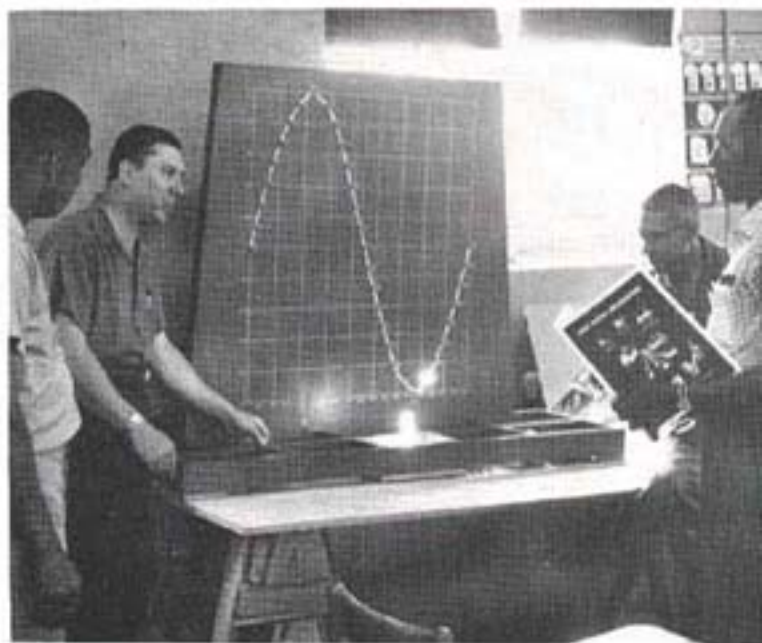

The Aquatic School which holds classes annually on the campus has its base of operations at the University's outdoor and indoor pools.

The National Insurance Association held its second annual Institute on A. and I.'s campus during the month of July. Officers of the class took time out from tackling their "Honest John" reports to pose for the photographer.

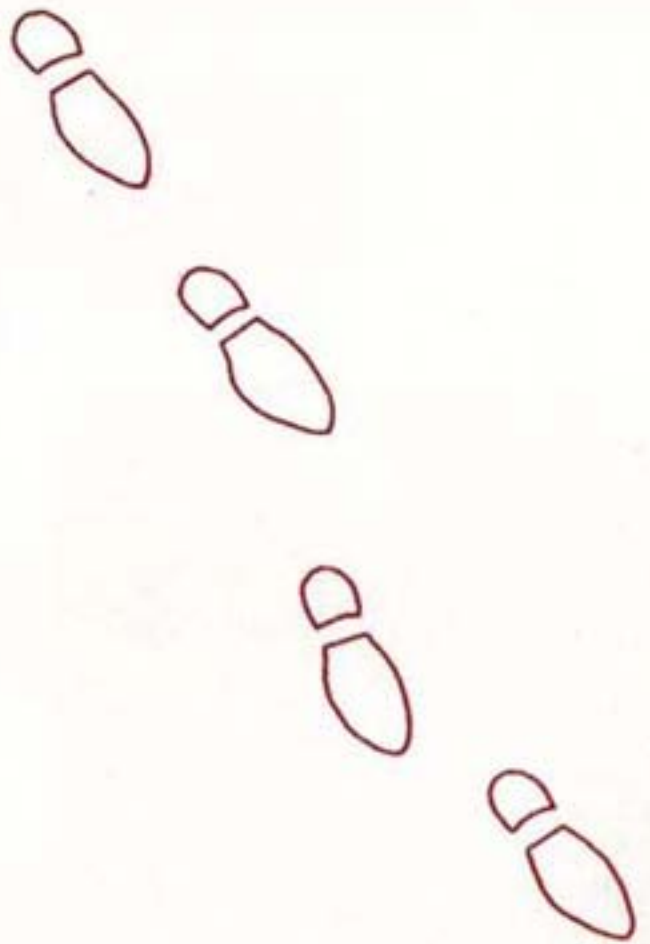

Approximately 100 in-service vocational agriculture teachers attended the Vocational Agriculture Workshop where special demonstrations by the Tennessee Valley Authority were featured.

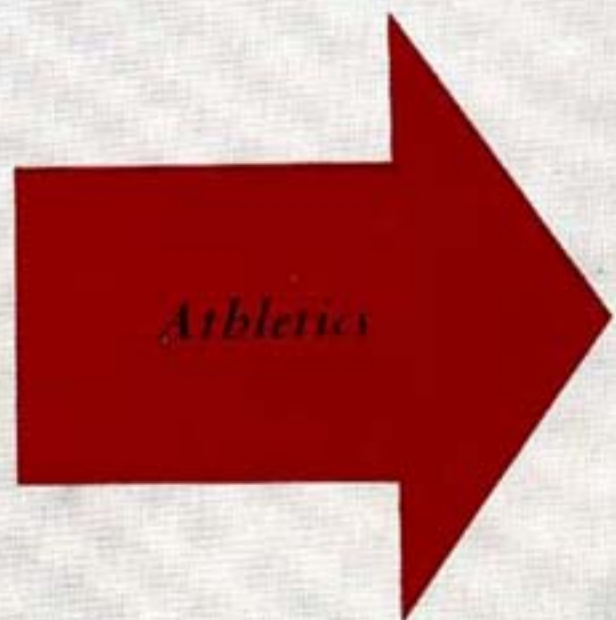

Daniel Kean of Gulf Oil Corporation, Ramon Scruggs of Michigan Bell Telephone Company, Dr. Herman Long of Fisk University's Race Relations, Lewis Holland of the A. and I. Business Administration staff and Wendell P. Alston of Esso Standard Oil were participants in this year's Marketing Clinic.

Students Lornie Phillips and Bennett Smith, on either side of Career Conference keynote speaker C. Rodger Wilson of the Illinois State Employment Service participated in a radio broadcast in connection with the 1957 Conference. This year's Conference marked the sixth in a series.

Cheerleaders do a lot of posing for posterity . . .

. . . and tumbling for the Homecoming crowd.

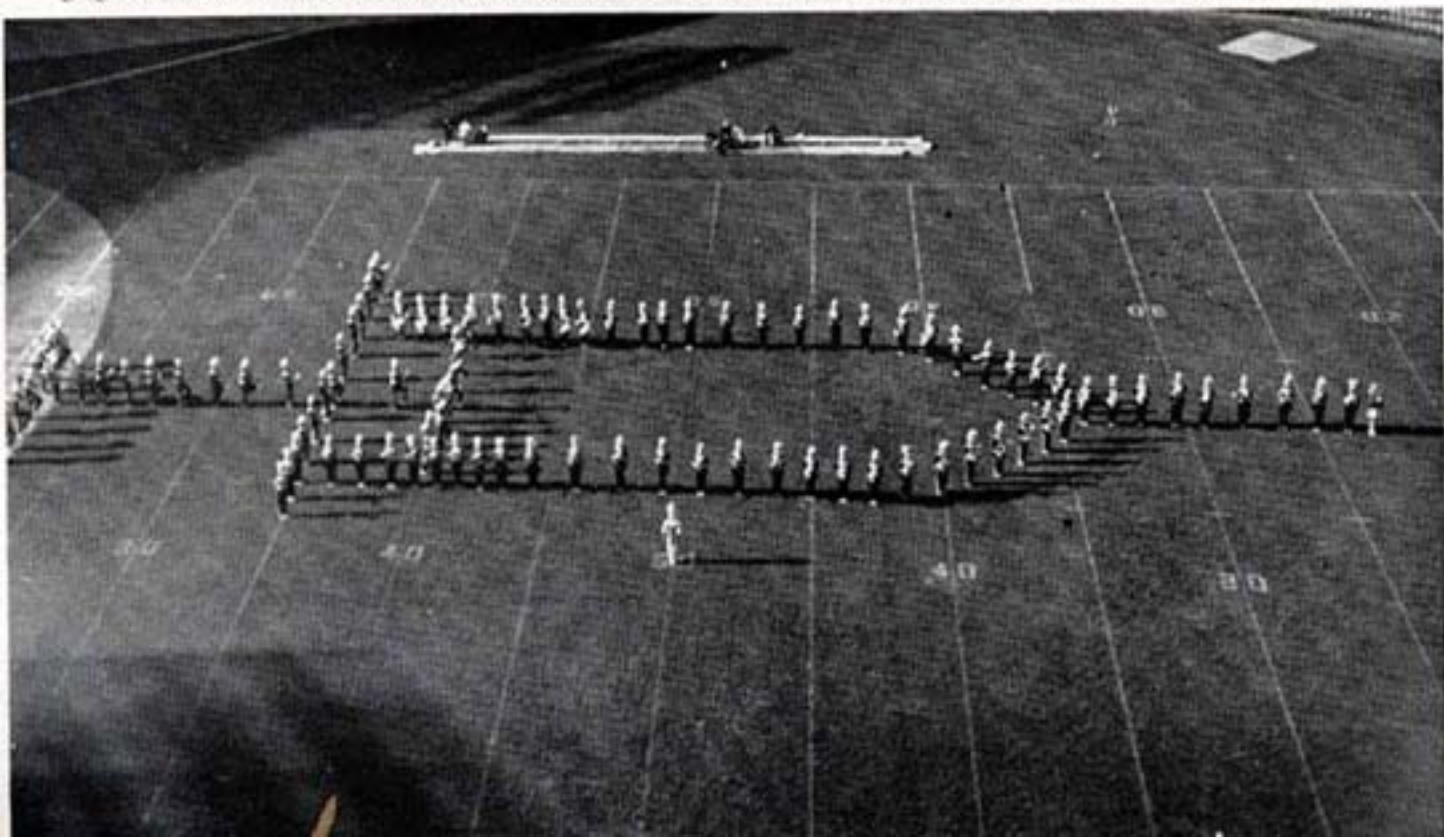

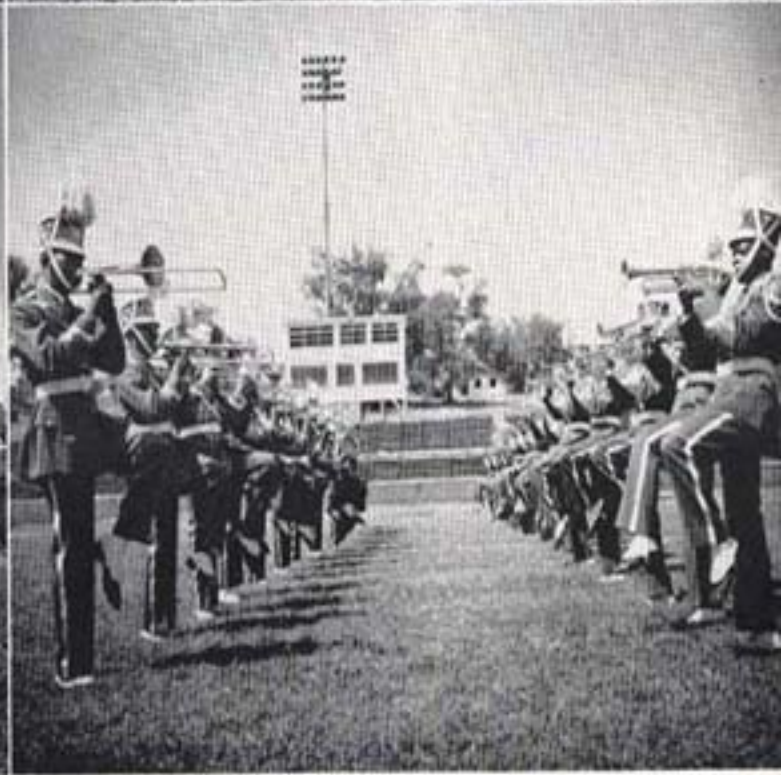

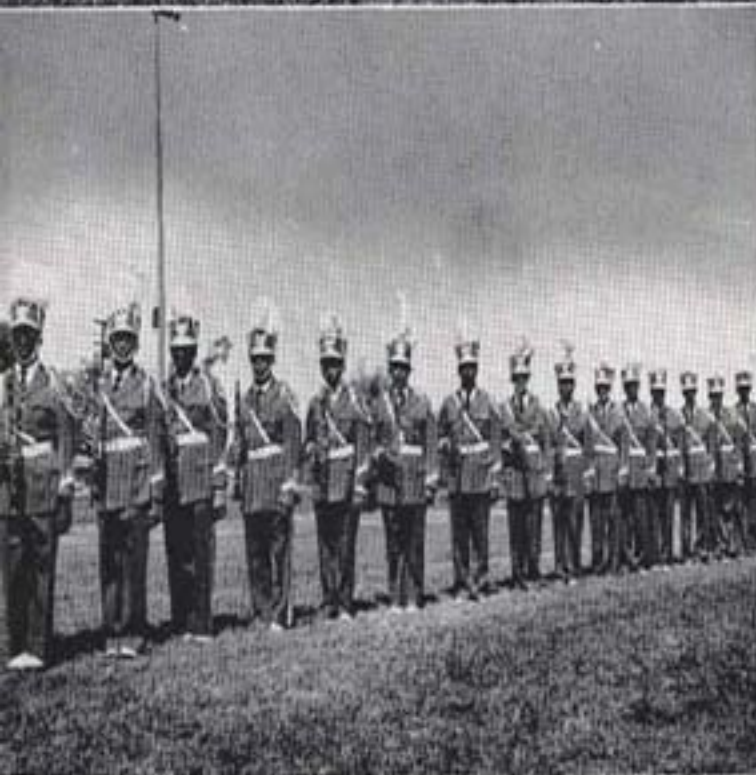

Anceo M. Francisco (left), assistant band director, and Frank T. Greer, director, work untiringly for perfection of the Tennessee State Marching Band.

Wherever they go, the majorettes and drum majors attract a following all their own.

One of the formations perfected by the marching band is the hypodermic needle. Homecoming visitors thrilled to the pageantry of the aggregation as did the Cleveland, Ohio citizens during half-time at the Cleveland Browns-New York Giants game in October.

The band flames the spirit

Miss Tennessee State looked like a million as she and her attendants were driven the parade route and onto the field in a bright red Cadillac convertible.

The blue of the AFROTC added color to the Homecoming parade.

Homecoming was a great thrill

At the Homecoming dance Hal McIntyre gladly accepts a request from students.

Hal McIntyre, college prom favorite, was maestro of the baton for the homecoming dance.

Students, faculty, alumni, and friends crowded the floor of the gymnasium to swing and sway at the Homecoming dance.

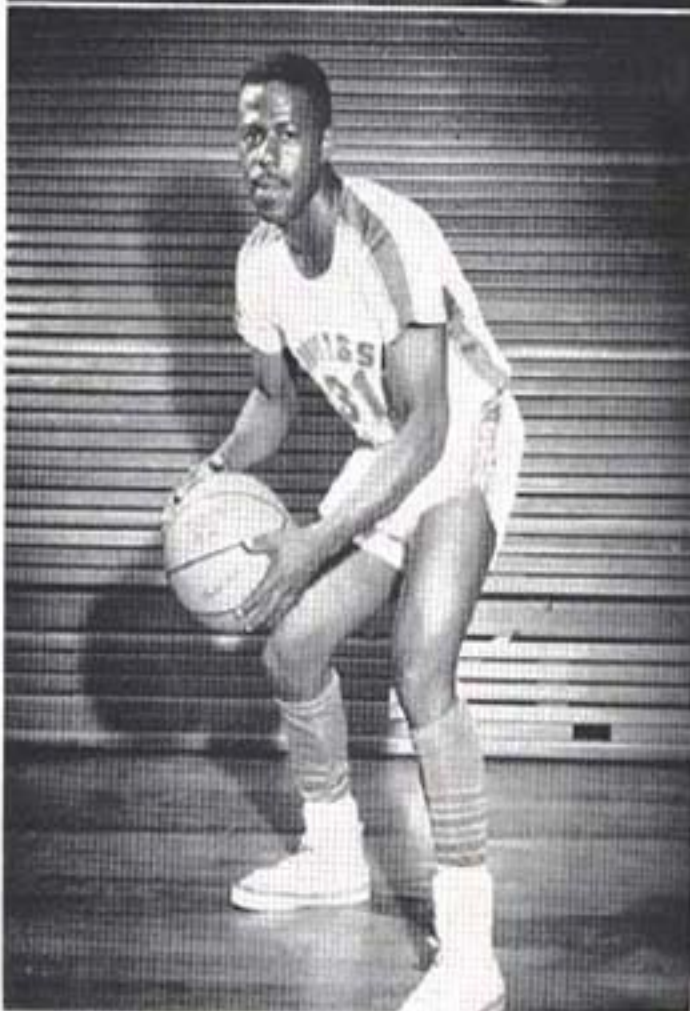

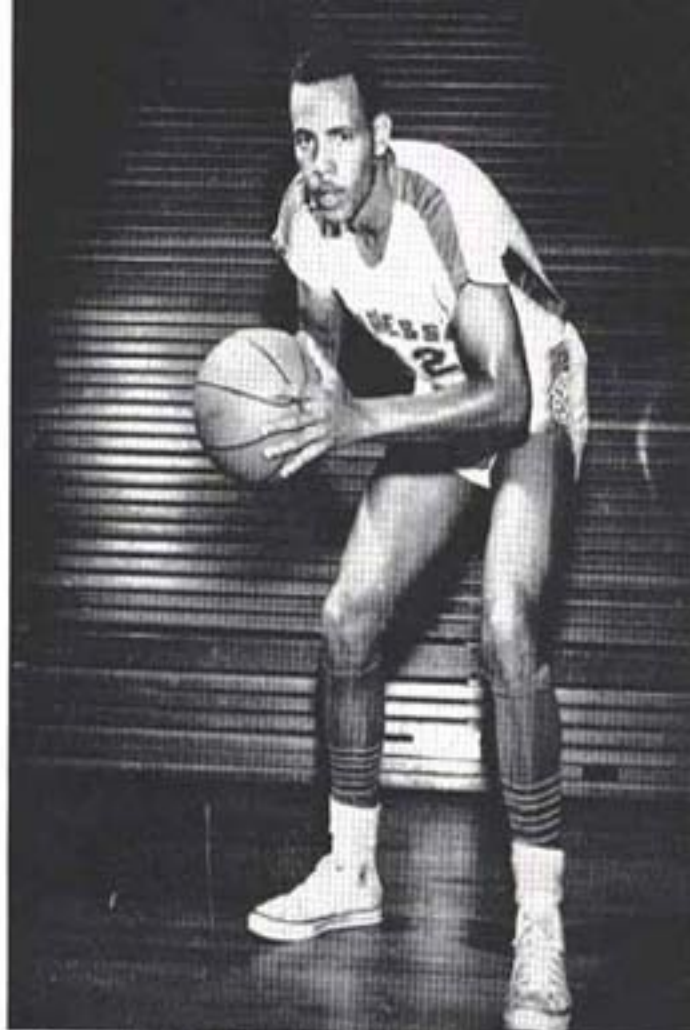

"To the Victors go the Spoils," and the Tiger Cagers pose for newreel and still cameras with the NAIA championship banner won at Kansas City, Mo.

This year Coach Johnny McLendon's basketball Tigers battled their way to three championships. The first was the Mid-Western Conference, then the NAIA District 29 and finally the NAIA Championship of 1957.

Unseeded as they began tournament play at Kansas City, Mo., the Tigers quickly struck down Adrian College and Portland University. Gaining the quarter-finals they came from behind to stop Western Illinois 90-88. In the semi-finals top seeded Pacific Lutheran felt the mighty claw of the Tigers' Dick Barnett as he hit a left handed jump shot in the last nine seconds to beat them 71-70. Oklahoma was no match for the Johnny McLendon-Dick Mack coached speedsters who raced to a 92-71 victory and the championship. It proved to be the fighting spirit of Captain Ronnie Hamilton, the sharp shooting of All-NAIA champs Dick Barnett and Johnny Barnhill, plus the effective rebounding of All-NAIA Jim Satterwhite that kept the Tigers going.

Women's Track . . . in the winner's circle for another year

A and I's Tigerbelles display the poise and confidence which helped them win the National A.A.U. Indoor and Outdoor Track and Field Championships plus the Tennessee and Alabama Relays.

It all started in January of 1956 when the Tigerbellees won the Indoor AAU. Just to keep in training the fleet-footed lassies ran off with their own and the Alabama Relays. In July the team stretched its winning streak to the championship of the Outdoor AAU for the second consecutive year. Climaxing their record year the Cinderqueens placed six of their number on the American Olympic team.

Willie White, Margaret Matthews, Mae Faggs, Wilma Rudolph, Lucinda Williams and Isabelle Daniels display medals won by them in the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne, Australia.

Bottom: Captain "Marge" Matthews talks baseball with Frank Robinson of the Cincinnati Redlegs and Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves at Atlanta's 100% Wrong Club banquet.

Losing five men through graduation didn't matter to the powerful Tigersharks. With seven meets on their schedule they were successful in defeating all but Ball State College who sneaked by them 45-37. The Tigersharks sank Central State twice by the same score 68-17, West Virginia 64-19, Fairmont State Teachers 58-27 and Southern University 73-9. Reading From Left to Right on Floor: Ronald Payne, William Dunlap, Alex Davis. On Bench: Lee Derrick, Shelton Walker, Co-Captains Wilson Allen and Herbert Brown, Charles Rigby, Art Griffa. Standing Coach Thomas Hughes, Manager Joe King, John McIntosh, Charles Dobson, Horace Howard, Asst. Manager William McNeal. Teammate Dirk Jones is not shown.

Baseball

Plagued by a rain-drenched season in '56 Coach Samuel D. Whitmon's Baseball Tigers still managed to play ten games, winning six of them. At Yearbook press time the Tigers were just beginning their 1957 schedule.

The 1956 edition of the Tiger Thinclads, coached by Dick Mack, captured their own relays and were runners-up in the Mid-Western Conference. Coaching reins for the 1957 season have been turned over to the capable hands of Ray Kemp.

Men's Track

WILLIE STEVENS

senior of Chicago, Illinois, 120 yard high hurdles

KELLY FULLER

senior of Baton Rouge, La., Mile and High Jump

DICK CAFFEY

senior of La Grange, Ill., 220 yard low hurdles and captain of the team.

Winners of the National Negro Football championship and the Midwest Conference Championship were Coach Howard C. Gentry's football Tigers with 10-0 season record. The Tigers played in three classics this year: The Bluff City Classic, Memphis, Tennessee; The Orange Blossom Classic, Miami, Florida and the Capital City Classic in Washington, D. C. Four men placed on the Little College All American.

With a 31-4 record the Tiger Hardwood Cagers, coached by Johnny McLendon, won the Mid-West, NAIA District 29, Xavier Invitational tournaments and placed second in the Rockhurst Invitational. They became the undisputed champions of the NAIA at Kansas City, Missouri in March.

A record year for coaches

Coach Ed. Temple's fleet-footed Tigerbellees of the cinderpath won both the indoor and outdoor AAU track meets and broke two records in track events and one in field. Six Tigerbellees traveled to Melbourne, Australia where they took part in the Olympic games and gained international recognition.

A. and I.'s Tigersharks, coached by Thomas H. "Friend" Hughes took six out of seven meets, set six records in the 400 yard medley, broke four records in the 200 yard butterfly and broke one record in the 50-yard freestyle. They are uncrowned intercollegiate champs.

Frank Pagliaro and Pat Ryan of the Fred Astaire Dance Studio in New York came to the campus and taught students basic steps of various dances. It was a three-night project and the "Miss Charm," "Mr. Esquire" Ball climaxed the training period. It's been a memorable year for dances and dancers for there've been four big name hands on the campus this year.

Students, Faculty and alumni tripped the light fantastic on Thanksgiving night to the music of saxophonist Hal McIntyre and his orchestra.

A banner year for dances

Dizzy Gillespie was maestro of the baton and the trumpet at the "Charm"- "Esquire" Ball in March.

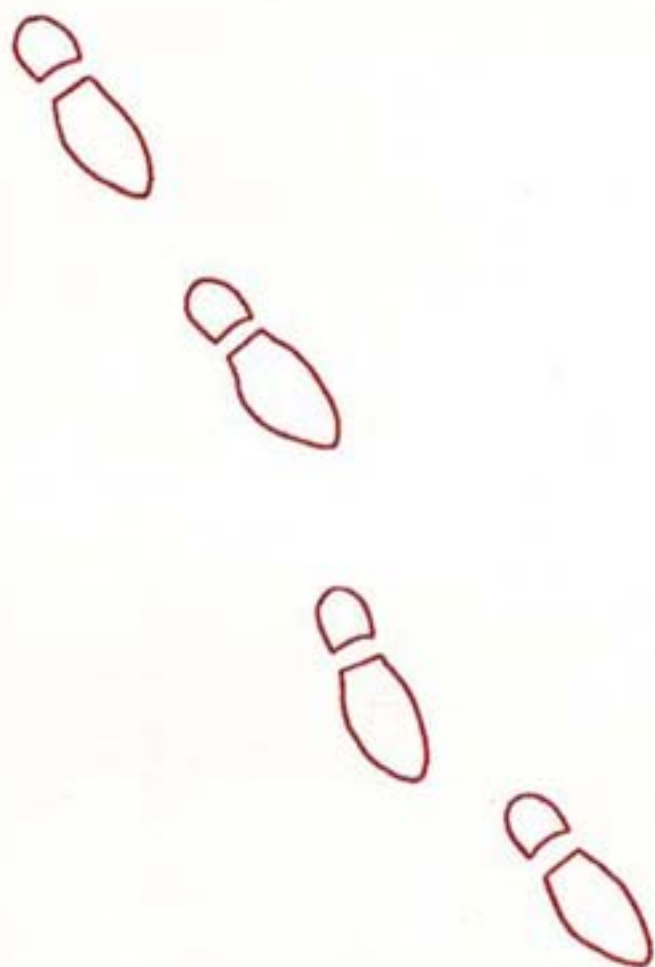

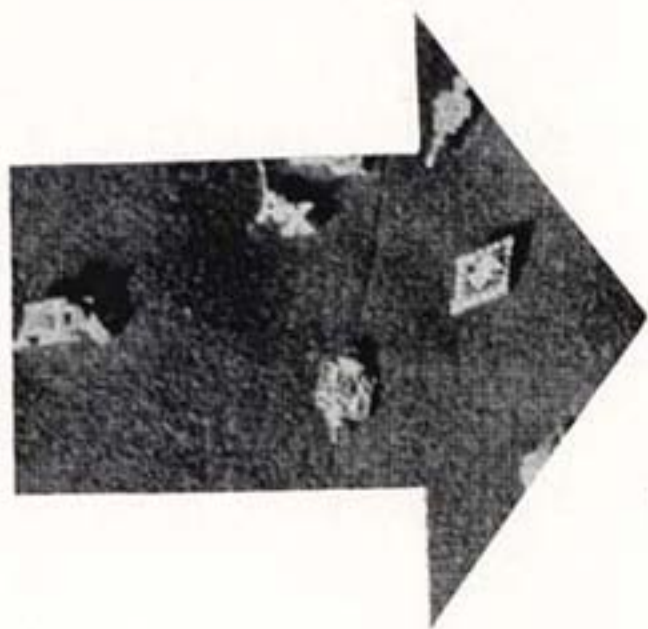

Junior-Senior Promers thrilled to the music of trumpeter Charlie Spivak at their invitation Month of May affair.

The last big dance of the year was the Greek dance and trombonist Baddy Morrow and his orchestra furnished the music.

Alpha Psi Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority is one segment of many chapters of this great Sorority which is "the FIRST" national Greek letter organization for Negro women, founded in 1908. The organization as a whole dedicates itself to service of all mankind and is an advocate of high scholarship. Through the years it has continued to uphold those tenets upon which it was established.

Alpha Psi has tried and very successfully accomplished the objectives of which the organization advocates by contributing to:

The Sorority—National Project Fund

The Campus—Station Project

The Community—Old Folks Home

The Chapter is proud to boast of its many Sorors who are members of and hold office in the majority of other campus activities and has for the past four years had a Soror (member) to hold the coveted title of "Miss Tennessee A & I State University".

C. Shane, James E. Smith, Joe W. Steele, Robert Taylor, James Trent, Thomas Toran, Richard Thompson, Fred Valentine, Edward Vincent, Percy Washington, Joseph V. Williams, Robert S. Williams, Harold Winfrey, Emmett Yette.

With paramount principles in mind, seven nobles gave rise to what is now known as Beta Omicron. Thus Beta Omicron was founded on ethical values, linguistic discipline, and potent standards for the eternal truths of manly deeds, scholarship, and love for all mankind. As a result of these principles, Beta Omicron has encouraged and enabled men to rise high, stand tall, and to never relinquish those attributes that contributed to its birth.

We salute Henry A. Callis, George B. Kelley, Nathaniel A. Murray, Charles H. Chapman, Robert H. Ogle, Vertner W. Tandy, and Eugene K. Jones. All of Alpha is proud of the seven great warriors who possessed a zeal and fervency theretofore unconsummated and who through their herculean efforts and sense of honorable obligation founded Alpha Phi Alpha in 1905-1906.

Distrusting the assumption that education should be all academic and non-social, it has been our aim to emphasize "The man, whole and entire," having no phase of his personality neglected or thwarted morally, intellectually, or socially.

It is true that Beta Omicron is only a link in the chain of Alpha, but in a city and state where Alpha chapters are gifted for singular accomplishments, it has become a chapter of distinction and it has shone as a star in the night with the brilliance and luminous of a crucifix. Those words are made a living reality in that Beta Omicron has been named as the most outstanding undergraduate chapter in Alpha for two times during the last six years. Another one of our members is currently ending a term as a member of the regional governing body.

With the help of God, it is our aim to continue to rise, and to lift others into that atmosphere, that horizon of pure sunshine where it is our utmost ambition to serve man, our brother.

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority was founded at Howard University, Washington, D. C., in 1913. The purpose of the sorority is to encourage high cultural and scholastic standards and to lift the ideal of finer womanhood.

Many philanthropic projects are conducted by Delta Sigma Theta annually. These projects include the giving of scholarships and job opportunities.

Alpha Chi Chapter, founded on the campus of Tennessee Agricultural and Industrial State University in 1936, has since grown tremendously. Alpha Chi lives up to the ideals of Delta by participating in all phases of campus activities. In keeping with the ideals of high scholastic standards Delta has received the Alpha Kappa Mu Scholarship Trophy for four consecutive years; thereby gaining possession of it permanently.

Among the chapter's activities throughout the year are the annual Rush Party given for the freshman and new students, Quiet Hour, and Sunday School Programs. The "Delta Kiddie Party" is an annual affair where all sorors and guests present a toy on admittance. All toys are given to the Community Center to be distributed to the needy children.

Alpha Chi Chapter, with sorors from Alpha Beta of Fisk, Gamma Omega of Meharry, and Pi Sigma, Graduate chapter, celebrate Founders Day each year.

As an annual project of Alpha Chi, we anticipate giving the scholarship award again this year on Awards Day to some worthy student.

Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity as founded by Elder W. Diggs, along with nine other men on the 5th of January, 1911, at the University of Indiana, and was incorporated April 15, 1915, as the first Negro fraternity in the state.

Alpha Theta Chapter was founded May 23, 1931, by Leroy Boyd. The purpose of Kappa Alpha Psi is achievement. It strives to inspire its members to do noble deeds and gain positions of usefulness to mankind.

In taking its part in the university and community life, Alpha Theta has sponsored many worthy projects such as the Kappa Costume Karnival and the Guide Right Movement. They also take an active part in other University activities; they give a Sweetheart Breakfast on Valentine Day in honor of their sweethearts and the chapter sweetheart.

Somewhat different from other fraternities on Tennessee State's campus, Alpha Theta elects as their sweetheart a member of the University faculty and she remains as such as long as she's connected with the university. There have only been two sweethearts in the history of the chapter.

Many brothers are campus leaders and honor students. Annually Alpha Theta men are outstanding in basketball, football, swimming, track and baseball.

Omega Psi Phi Fraternity was founded on November 17, 1911, at Howard University in Washington, D. C. Believing that men of similar ideals and principles should bind themselves together in a common bond of brotherhood, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity was founded upon these Four Cardinal Principles: Manhood, Scholarship, Perseverance, and Uplift. We are ever grateful to our founders, Edgar A. Love, Oscar Cooper, Frank Coleman, and Ernest Just, for a Fraternity of brotherhood and fellowship which shall stand as a glowing light for all men who pledge themselves to such principles.

The dreams and visions of our founders are today a reality. There are, at present, more than twenty-five thousand men in the national organization who believe and stress the ideals of Omega as brothers and are living up to the Four Cardinal Principles.

As members of Rho Psi Chapter, we are walking proudly in the footsteps of our founders, realizing fully the great responsibility that the future holds for us as leaders of tomorrow. In 1956 and 1957 we are determined to find "Techniques for Strengthening and Furthering Our Democratic and Christian Heritage." Rho Psi reviews the past and welcomes the future, always stressing brotherhood and true friendship as the key to happiness and freedom of all mankind.

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority was organized November 12, 1922 in Indianapolis, Indiana, by Mary Lou Allison Gardner. The sorority was incorporated as a National Collegiate Sorority, November 30, 1932.

The first chapter Alpha, had its Charter at Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana. The first call for a National Boule' was sent out by Soror Allison to be held at Indianapolis, December 27 to 29, 1925. Since that time, many Boules have been held.

The first Southern Regional Conference was held in May, 1938 at A. and I. State College, Nashville, Tennessee.

Slowly but surely Sigma Gamma Rho has grown, and we are proud to boast of the fact that we are the youngest National Collegiate Sorority of our group.

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority is a member of the National Pan Hellenic Council, life member of the NAACP, has membership in The National Council of Negro Women and membership in The Council of Human Rights.

With our slogan, "Greater Service—Greater Progress" ever before us we will surmount the highest peak where we find Education the gateway to success.

The Members of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority of Epsilon Alpha Chapter are: Freddye Daniels, Lou Etta Outlaw, Ossie B. Reaves, Ernestine Williams, Barbara McLamare.

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority was founded by five persons on Howard University's Campus, Washington D. C., in 1920.

These persons were interested in bringing together young women possessing qualities of leadership and high moral standards.

As the years have passed, many young ladies have wanted to become a part of such a fine organization. Now chapters of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority can be found all over the United States.

Zeta contributes to the following National Projects: "The National Recreation Project", The National Housing Project, The Woman of the Year Project, and The American Council on Human Rights.

We, the members of Epsilon Alpha Chapter, are trying to stress those things which our original founders felt were necessities.
