TENNESSEE STATE UNIVERSITY
3500 JOHN A. MERRITT BOULEVARD
NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE 37209-1561

Greetings Alumni, Supporters and Friends,

At Tennessee State University, students are educated, encouraged and nurtured for leadership, and we realize we are able to provide many needed services and support those seeking a quality education due to your generosity. We sincerely thank you for all that you do.

In the pages of the 2013-14 Tennessee State University Foundation Annual Report, we share powerful stories of selfless generosity and the impact your contributions made to the university. You will read about some of our dynamic donors who, like you, have made a commitment to support education as well as learn more about several talented students who are benefitting from your kind contributions.

I am proud to lead the efforts of this wonderful university – rich in history and full of promise. Our collective success is due to contributions from our alumni, faculty, staff, students, corporate partners and many friends. Your gifts are truly appreciated and make a tremendous impact in our ability to provide enhanced academic, research and community services.

I look forward to a continued partnership with each of you. With your continued support, even greater things are in store.

Sincerely,

Glenda Baskin Glover

3500 John A. Merritt Blvd., Campus Box 9542, Nashville, Tennessee 37209-1561

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

At Tennessee State University, excellence has been defined by results. This past year, we have seen a great deal of success; much of which has been achieved thanks to the commitment of dedicated faculty, staff and students working together as well as the support of our alumni, friends and corporate donors who share our commitment to academic excellence.

A great deal of focus has been given to improving the academic environment and building financial stability that supports student scholarships, classroom advancements and program enhancements. Our goals are becoming reality thanks to the generous support of donors like you.

We are very proud of the fact that Tennessee State University's tuition, fees and room and board costs are considerably less than comparable institutions, but when you measure it to the fact that more than 80 percent of our student body receives financial aid – a majority of which is in the form of loans, it becomes clear the level of long-term debt obligations this causes for students. Your gifts help deserving students spend the time they need on excelling in their classes rather than focusing on the burden of financial debt from loans.

As you read through this annual report, you will find many examples of accomplishment and generosity. The TSU Foundation Board of Trustees looks forward to working with you to take Tennessee State University to even greater heights of excellence in the future.

Sincerely,

TOP TEN LIFE LESSONS

from Mrs. Evelyn Hardin

In her 100 years, Mrs. Evelyn Robinson Hardin has had the opportunity to learn many life lessons.

- 1 Get up early...do not waste the day.
- 2 Work hard.
- 3 Keep looking ahead.
- 4 Forgive others.
- 5 Treat others the way you would like to be treated.
- 6 Think before you speak.
- 7 Keep "JOY" in your life and in the lives of others around you.
- 8 Share you resources with others.
- 9 Say nice things and learn to listen.
- 10 Most important of all: ALWAYS KEEP GOD 1ST PLACE IN YOUR LIFE.

Evelyn Robinson Hardin

"As long as you are living, keep on kicking." That is the personal motto of 101-year-old Tennessee State University graduate Evelyn Robinson Hardin ('36), who enrolled in 1932 and majored in Elementary Education.

"I enjoyed campus life, meeting students from other cities and states," said Hardin, a retired educator of 33 years.

During Hardin's time at TSU, she focused on academics as well as service. Through involvement with her sorority – Delta Sigma Theta – she was one of six young women to charter the Alpha Chi Chapter in 1936. Today, she remains committed to her alma mater and her beloved sorority.

"I am blessed by God to be the only surviving charter member of that group," she said. "My membership in Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. is a lifetime commitment that I continue to honor and hold in high esteem."

Her legacy will continue to live on through the Evelyn Robinson Hardin Delta Sigma Theta Endowed Scholarship Fund, which was created by the chapter to assist students who are members of TSU's Alpha Chi chapter. The first scholarship recipient will be awarded during the 2015-16 academic year.

When Hardin was informed about the scholarship in her name, she said, "I was so very happy because I wanted young and smart Deltas to have a chance at earning a college degree. I hope this scholarship opportunity will start a chain reaction. I am truly honored that the chapter chose to set up this scholarship in my name."

Hardin concluded, "I give to my beloved alma mater because it is fertile ground. It is an excellent place to sow your financial resources and to give of your time and talent. It is a university where African-American students have been welcomed for over a century. It is a university with a rich history and a proud tradition that I can look to with pride."

ENARIANS

Dr. Damon Lee, Jr.

At 101 years of age, Dr. Damon Lee, Jr. ('35) has many memories to look back on, and some of the sweetest are from his days as a student at Tennessee State University, where he graduated cum laude with a major in History and minor in Chemistry.

"As an African-American during the Depression era, I knew I was extremely fortunate to be able to attend college," he said. "I developed many lifelong friendships, and I participated as a founding member of Beta Omicron Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity."

In 1999, Lee established the Damon and Rachel Lee Scholarship Endowment for business students lacking the financial resources to attend college. "We wanted to provide a path to assist deserving students in reaching their educational goals. I feel extremely gratified knowing my contributions have supported many students," he said.

He fondly remembers his college days and advises TSU students to make their studies a No. 1 priority. He also urges students to establish friendships and get involved during their four years on campus. "It's a blessing to be able to even go to college," he said. "When you get older and reflect back on your college days, these years will have been some of the best in your life."

For anyone who wants to live a full century, Lee offers his own insight into aging well, saying, "I am thankful to God that I am able to live this long. However, I believe that God helps those who help themselves. I practice good nutrition, never smoked, and keep alcohol and sweets to a minimum. I got my exercise through long walks and gardening."

ADVICE FOR SUCCESS

from Dr. Damon Lee, Jr.

- 1 Marry the right person. This one decision will determine 90 percent of your happiness or misery.
- 2 Treat everyone with respect.
- 3 Discipline yourself to save money even on the most modest salary.
- 4 Don't do anything that wouldn't make your mother proud.

"Receiving the Damon and Rachel Lee Scholarship means the world to me. This scholarship will allow me the opportunity to continue my education at Tennessee State University and open doors to pursue my lifelong dreams. [It] will make me appreciate this blessing and work even harder than before. I promise to give my all when it comes to my education to make sure I will not let anyone down. I consider this scholarship to be the key to continue striving on."

A FATHER'S SACRIFICE HELPS TO ESTABLISH A FAMILY LEGACY OF TSU GRADUATES

Edith Stamps-Miller, Elizabeth Wortham and Anna Jackson

The thought of paying one college tuition sounds daunting to many parents. But when you're a humble farmer with six daughters, it's practically unheard of.

Elizabeth Wortham ('60), Edith Stamps-Miller ('54) and their four sisters all graduated from Tennessee State University due to the hard work and sacrifice of their father, a farmer, who paid for each woman's education.

"My daddy put us all through college on a farmer's salary," Miller said. "That was amazing during that time because a lot of parents couldn't even put one through college. We were lucky."

In addition to leaving a family legacy at TSU with six sisters successfully graduating, Wortham and Stamps-Miller are also exceedingly generous in their giving to the institution.

In 2004, Wortham established the TamDee Wortham and Pitt Endowed Scholarship named after her two daughters, Tamara and Dierdre, also TSU graduates. Dierdre became a Doctor of Pharmacy, while Tamara, who passed away in 2004 at the age of 44, went into Business Education.

As individuals sent their condolences, Wortham directed them to give to TSU, and through their giving and Wortham's generosity, a scholarship was created. "Deirdre encouraged me to do the scholarship. Her reasoning was there were others who could benefit from it," Wortham said.

Miller is no stranger to loss either. She has buried two husbands—both graduates of TSU—in her lifetime. Her first husband, Joseph L. Stamps, graduated with the very first class of engineering at TSU. The two married in 1955. During their 33 years of marriage, they raised two beautiful daughters. "I can say thanks to TSU who gave them educated parents and now we have educated children who hopefully will give them educated grandchildren."

She met her second husband, William R. Miller, also a TSU graduate, in 1995. The couple was married for 19 years, which they spent "traveling, catching up with golf balls, and having a great time" Miller said. "We lived a good life all because of TSU. When he died, I decided it was time to make a change in my contributions [to TSU]."

Stamps-Miller set up the William R. and Edith Pitt-Stamps Miller Endowed Scholarship in 2012 before he passed away in 2013. In an act of love, she included her first husband Joseph's name in the fund too.

"TSU has provided me a beautiful life for which I am forever grateful," she said. "I have enjoyed two wonderful husbands who were both graduates of TSU. I am grateful not only for TSU having prepared all three of us, but also my five sisters."

GEORGE AND JANIE GANAWAY PAY IT FORWARD

When Janie Ganaway ('70) arrived at Tennessee State University, she had no idea she would spend more than 40 years on campus. Ganaway turned from a student, to a graduate, to an employee, arriving at the age of 17 and leaving 38 years later when retiring in 2009. "That's half of my life," she said.

Her matriculation to TSU was solidified when she received a full scholarship. If it were not for the financial support, she would not have been the first college graduate in her family. "It would have been a real struggle for my father... the opportunities [scholarships] afforded me were so valuable."

She has not forgotten the kindness of donors; Ganaway and her husband George—also a TSU graduate (B.S. '68, M.S. '72)—established the Morella Siner Goodlow Scholarship in 2009. It is named after her grandmother, who took the lead in creating an educational environment for her as a child. From taking her to the library, to learning math through grocery shopping, to exercising her brain through memorization, Ganaway's grandmother was a driving force behind her education.

The Ganaways also established the Ganaway Family Endowment in 2012. They are focused on helping other less-fortunate students receive a quality college education. "My husband and I feel an education is necessary and sometimes people need to have help, particularly within the African American community. There's not enough money flowing to ensure every gifted person can get that opportunity...by giving, you can help someone else reach his or her dreams."

She believes everyone should give back to TSU because the same type of gift was afforded to her—an education she will cherish for the rest of her life. "If there hadn't been people to give me a scholarship, I might not have gone to college. I might have stopped short at getting a high school diploma."

"This scholarship, simply put, means graduation. As a recipient, it puts me one step closer to completely covering the cost of tuition for my final year at Tennessee State University. It has also motivated me to remember to give back to my alma mater after graduation to give a future student the same opportunity."

— Parris Malone

A LEADER IN PHILANTHROPY

HCA Healthcare, based in Nashville, Tennessee, isn't just the nation's leading provider of health care services; it is also a company focused on making higher education more affordable for college students attending Tennessee State University.

Sherri Neal, HCA Vice President, Cultural Development and Inclusion, speaks at Scholarship Appreciation

HCA has been engaged with TSU for many years, and the company's generosity has greatly impacted the course of many students who might not otherwise be able to afford a quality college education.

In 2013, TSU focused its relationship with HCA on increasing clinical opportunities with its nursing students at Centennial Medical Center—the company's flagship hospital. Tanya Watson, associate vice president for Institutional Advancement at TSU explained, "This led to clinical curriculum changes and a fully integrated acceptance of our students interning in their healthcare system in Middle Tennessee."

HCA's impact on TSU students is certainly felt by its scholarship recipients. The philanthropy of HCA means students can even change the trajectory of their family tree, like Civil Engineering student Taytianna Bonds.

"Being the oldest of six and a first-generation college student, this scholarship will help me to further my education and help me continue to raise the bar for my younger siblings and other family members," she said.

Kristin Fowler, a dental hygiene major, said, "This scholarship means more to me than life itself. I was very fearful of not being able to attend TSU this year. There is no other college I would rather be at than Tennessee State University."

Thanks to HCA's devoted giving, students are able to matriculate at TSU, even amidst financial hardships and significant challenges. "We appreciate the commitment they have made to TSU and our students," Watson said.

In addition to offering internships, HCA has invested in students at TSU by providing $150,000 in scholarships to students studying Nursing, Health Sciences, Engineering, and Business totaling 47 HCA scholarships in 2013-2014. Additionally, HCA was the sponsor for TSU's 2014 Scholarship Gala, 2014 Diversity and Inclusion Summit and has been the top sponsor of the university's Women of Legend and Merit Awards since 2009.

"Receiving this scholarship is an affirmation to myself that I am doing the things necessary to achieve my goals. To me, getting good grades is just a part of the college life but to receive this scholarship is something that I highly appreciate. It puts me one step ... closer to success."

– Toni Dickerson

"No one in my immediate family has completed college... it is my number one goal to graduate from TSU. This scholarship will help me complete this goal. I am so grateful to be the recipient of this scholarship. I can now move forward with receiving higher education."

- Kristin Fowler

TIME, TALENT AND RESOURCES

From a wide-eyed freshman at Tennessee State University to established Founder, President and CEO of SoBran, Incorporated, Amos Otis ('65 B.S., '70 MEd) attributes his success to his alma mater.

"If it were not for TSU I would not be in the position I am today," said Otis. His beginning came from a single-parent, working-class home, in which his mother did not have the means to send him to college. However, his uncle's friend Eddie Williams—director of security at TSU at the time—stepped in. He helped Otis apply, be accepted and receive a scholarship to attend. "Since then, TSU has been a tremendous and significant part of my life," Otis added.

After graduating from TSU with a Bachelor of Science in Industrial Art Education and a Master of Science in Education, Otis went on to have a distinguished 21-year career as an Air Force Officer before taking an entrepreneurial route. In 1987, in the corner of his home's basement in Fairfax County, Virginia, he started SoBran, Incorporated which provides biomedical, engineering, logistics and security services, including SafeMail® mail security for government agencies, corporations and universities. Today, SoBran is a $63 million company with 900 employees and has been consistently listed in publications like Inc. 5000 and Black Enterprise Top 100.

Otis attributes TSU for the confidence and drive needed to begin—and thrive at—a business.

"The nurturing I received gave me confidence that I could do whatever I set my mind to do. I feel TSU was a bridge in my life. It took me from the life of my upbringing to the next level."

Otis has a deep passion for providing educational opportunities to deserving youth, just as he was once a recipient of a donor's kindness. With a MBA from the California State University System and a Master of Military Art and Science from Air University, it is clear that education is intrinsically important in his life. He established the SoBran/Scoman Educational Scholarship Endowment at TSU in 2003, providing assistance to undergraduate students from Detroit, Michigan or Baltimore, Maryland.

Otis has served on the TSU Foundation Board of Trustees since 2010 and is currently the chair of the finance committee. In addition, Otis is heavily involved in civic leadership, serving on the board of directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, Cincinnati Branch since 2012. He is also a member of the board of trustees of the Dayton Development Coalition, a life member of the NAACP, chair of the Beta Nu Boule Education Foundation of the Sigma Pi Phi Fraternity and a life member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity.

Amos and Brenda Willis Otis

“[The scholarship] motivates me ... so that one day I can be the provider of a scholarship fund. With the money provided for this scholarship, I will work hard and prove why I deserve the money to further my education.”

- Tonisa Williams, recipient of the Sobran/Scoman Endowed Scholarship

LEAVING A LEGACY

THE TENNESSEE STATE UNIVERSITY LEGACY SOCIETY recognizes persons who designate a gift for Tennessee State University in their wills and estates, deferred gifts or cash gifts of $10,000 or more to an endowment fund. Members receive a special recognition piece to display in their home or office. They are also invited to an annual event honoring Legacy Society members. Members have an opportunity to be listed in the annual Tennessee State University Foundation Report Legacy Society Honor Roll of Donors and in other select publications. But the greatest benefit is the satisfaction of knowing they are creating a lasting legacy to sustain the future of Tennessee State University.

GIVING IS THE 'RIGHT THING TO DO'

Clinton Woods ('68) has been a long-time supporter of Tennessee State University since graduation. He believes that giving is "the right thing to do."

While Woods did not come from a family that was able to give, through their example he gained many strong values that led him to his committed generosity toward the university.

"My family didn't have many resources but I was blessed with two tremendous parents. They didn't have a lot of material to give us but they taught us humility and benevolence and how to be of service to others. And that's part of their legacy that I cherish," he said.

Those philanthropic values are why Woods established the Clinton Woods Endowed Scholarship in 2013. He created the scholarship, provided through stocks and securities, for graduates of Melrose High School in Memphis, Tennessee.

When Woods graduated from high school, he was not financially able to go directly to college. He worked for one year at a private tennis club in Memphis until he had saved enough to attend TSU. After graduation from TSU, Woods went on to earn two graduate degrees and serve as the CEO of a vehicle distribution service company in Chicago.

"I was just grateful to be in a position to give on that level," he said. "I know what it's like from personal experience to want to go to college and not have the resources. My parents never bought a textbook, let alone paid tuition. So I know firsthand how important scholarships are."

Woods recalls his experience at TSU fondly, saying it was "fantastic." He especially enjoyed it because he knows how tenaciously he worked to get there.

"When I look at my academic experience, coupled with my student activity participation and social engagements, it played an incredible role in my growth, development and advancement," he said. "I encourage others to give to the best of their abilities. It's very important and it's needed."

ESTATE PLANNING LEAVES SIZABLE LEGACY AT TSU

When preparing his estate plan, Ronald Boswell Bradshaw, a retired teacher, quickly thought of Tennessee State University. He decided to establish a Charitable Remainder Unitrust with TSU as the benefiting charitable organization.

After Bradshaw's death in 2014, TSU received more than $500,000 to create a scholarship fund in the name of Audrey B. Jones and Ronald Boswell Bradshaw (in honor of his mother and father) for qualified students needing assistance in financing college costs at TSU. The first recipient(s) of the scholarship will be awarded for the 2015-16 academic year. By endowing these funds, the TSU Foundation will honor Bradshaw's legacy and help students for many years to come.

Bradshaw received his bachelor's and master's degrees from TSU in 1956 and 1959, respectively. He lived in Inglewood, California.

“The Theodore R. Wood Scholarship will help offset the cost to attend Tennessee State University this year, enabling me to focus more on my coursework instead of the cost of finishing my degree. As a mother, it’s important to complete this degree without feeling as though I am taking away from my children. I have always taught them it’s important to finish what they start, and when my son challenged me to finish what I had started years ago, it was time to practice what I preach. Thank you for allowing me to do just that.

“Receiving this Memorial Scholarship means the world to me. I have been through many trials and tribulations throughout my tenure here at Tennessee State University and this scholarship helps me finish what I started. Going into my final semester this fall, I was told I maxed out of all of my financial aid and I did not know how I would be able to finance my last semester of school. All I could do at this point was turn to my knees and pray. This scholarship showed me that the TSU Foundation believes in the students at Tennessee State University.
