

Workshop on Innovations in Grading Effectiveness

Wednesday, October 12, 2011

1:50 p.m., WRITE Training Center, 211 Jackson Hall

Could you use effective shortcuts & time-savers for responding to student writing?

The WRITE Program is proud to present

Dr. Joel Dark, Associate Professor of History, as he shares tips on creating Macros (keyboard shortcuts) for responding to digital drafts.

Digital comments allow for

- more consistent responses;
- more meaningful responses; and
- more strategic responses.

Capacity is limited to 20 participants, so reservations are required! E-mail write@tnstate.edu.
