ROLES, RESPONSIBILITIES, AND INITIATIVES

Dean, College of Public Service, Tennessee State University
2013 – present

Responsibilities

As the College's first permanent Dean, administer all internal and external activities of the College of Public Service, consisting of two departments and six academic programs. As the College's chief administrative and academic officer, has the responsibility of ensuring student success, securing donor and research funds, and providing leadership in addressing the educational needs of the Nashville community and surrounding areas.

InitiativesEnhancing Visibility*

Since joining the university in 2013, one of my key goals has been to raise the visibility of the College of Public Service regionally, nationally, and internationally. This goal encapsulates the full breadth of the college's key activities: academic programs, research, and community outreach.

- During the 2019-2020 academic year, the College was recognized (for the second consecutive year, never being ranked prior to 2018-2019) as one of the best Graduate

Public Affairs programs by U.S. News & World Report. The College secured the second-best ranking among all HBCU's with a NASPAA accredited Public Affairs program.

- During my time at the College we have worked to enhance recruitment, ensure retention, and make certain that our students are not only graduating, but are in the best position to have a fulfilling career. We are proactive in recruiting students, as well as developing sustainable recruitment practices. Bold and innovative recruitment efforts are a foundation of the College's success, most notably the growth in enrollment of our BS in Urban Studies from 22 students in Fall 2015 to 120 in Spring 2019 – a 445% increase. Our graduate student enrollment in the College has increased 35% under my leadership.
- We work tirelessly to grow in a deliberate and strategic manner. A central component of this long-term strategy has been the fruitful relationships that our College has developed with numerous Tennessee state agencies (e.g., TBI, TDOC, TDHS). These partnerships have resulted in robust enrollments in our tailored partnership programs (on-ground: Command College and Professional Management Academy, online: Certificate in Public Administration Executive Leadership and Certificate in Civic Leadership), and have also become a strong pipeline for students entering our undergraduate and graduate degree programs. These strategic partnerships with external organizations and communities serve to bolster our College's reputation in the region, as well as enhance our enrollments. I am active in overseeing and steering multiple efforts to revise admission requirements and enhance existing programs (adopting online modes of delivery, removing the GRE requirement for the MSW and MPA) to ensure enrollments continue to grow across the College while raising academic standards.
- Two College-wide events were held (Homecoming 2018 – Public Service Tigers Come Home and Black History Month 2019 – Voting While Black) that enjoyed high attendance and signaled both the College's commitment to community engagement and showcasing our current and alumni. The College of Public Service organized and hosted the 14th Annual Social Equity Leadership Conference, over 180 individuals attended. June 3-5, 2015. Program-specific events were also very successful, such as Social Work Day on the Hill and the Public Service Awards. I am also exceedingly proud of the College's Community Democracy Project, which continues to receive recognition locally and nationally, as well as provide TSU's students with results-oriented exposure to democracy in action. We have been very successful in our fund raising efforts
- A key dimension of my efforts to enhance the visibility of the college was changing the name from the College of Public Service and Urban Affairs to the College of Public Service. This formal change in the college's name serves to enhance the legibility of the college's programmatic offerings and central mission, as well as enhance the clarity of the college's brand.

Boosting Scholarly Productivity

I have diligently worked to ensure that there is a robust and thriving culture of scholarly productivity within the College, ensuring that faculty and students are empowered and enabled to contribute to meaningfully contribute to the world of scholarly ideas.

- Establishing a rich culture of scholarly productivity requires leading by example, which is reflected in 12 publications and 18 presentations during my time as Dean – with multiple being the product of collaborations with students and junior faculty.
- Oversaw the development of faculty tenure requirements within the college, which are more rigorous than elsewhere at the university. This serves to ensure...
- The College had numerous students receive awards, attend conferences, and earn recognition during my tenure as Dean. A highlight was our College having its first ever ASPA Founders' Fellow.
- During my time at TSU, the university's Carnegie Classification was elevated to R2 for higher research activity, the second highest classification an institution can receive from the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education. This distinction is shared by only ten other HBCUs. The work within the College of Public Service directly contributed to this elevated classification, which serves to raise the reputation and visibility of the college.

Sectoral Engagement

As the Dean of the College of Public Service, I know that the college's success is in many ways tied to our ability to engage with our partners and stakeholders (direct and indirect) in the Public and Nonprofit Sectors.

- Upon assuming the role as Dean, I immediately instituted several advisory boards for our degree programs. I knew the quality of our degree programs' curriculum would be significantly enhanced by directly and formally involving expert stakeholders.
- Our College has developed formal partnerships with numerous Tennessee state agencies (e.g., TBI, TDOC, TDHS), and many more informal partnerships with regional and national organizations to provide opportunities for faculty and students.
- I encourage and support all of my faculty in developing formal and informal advisory relationships with partner organizations, an approach I example in my role as a Senior Advisor to the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation (TBI).

Overcoming Budget Cuts

In the current era of higher education, budget cuts are continuously looming. This is especially the case at an HBCU, such as Tennessee State University. Therefore, I work to ensure that the faculty, staff, and the quality of our programs are insulated from budget cuts.

- During my tenure, the College's budget has consistently averaged 15% year-over-year growth.
- In 2015, the State of Tennessee's funding formula for public higher education changed. I was proactive in changing my leadership style and the policies within our college to ensure that our work was correctly aligned with the new funding formula.
- Upon arriving at TSU, one of the degree programs within the college (Urban Studies) did not have a budget allocation. I quickly corrected this issue, which has directly resulted in the program thriving – growing from 22 students in Fall 2015 to 120 in Spring 2019 (a 445% increase).

- Earned a $37,000 annual appropriation from the Tennessee Legislator for the advanced work done at the CPS, Center on Aging Research and Education Services (CARES). Under my leadership we expanded the vision for CARES to create a more comprehensive and relevant agenda.
- As a result of developing formal partnerships with Tennessee state agencies (TBI, TDOC, TDHS), our College has been able to endure dramatic university-level budget freezes and reductions through the intake of approximately $2 million in revenue during the partnership.

Supporting Diversity

- The responsibility of pursuing and supporting diversity is even greater at an HBCU, which is why I have consistently required my faculty and staff to participate in diversity training.
- Diversified recruitment (faculty and students), plus a renewed focus on international student recruitment.
- A key enhancement under my leadership has been the formal celebration of diversity, which has arrived with the College's first Black History Month and Homecoming events. Both of these events quickly attracted regional attention, and resulted in attendance numbers that far surpassed any of the College's prior events. These events serve to renew the College's commitment and alignment with TSU's rich heritage as one of the most highly respected HBCUs.

Programs

- CPS partnered with the Tennessee Department of Transportation (TDOT) to address transportation policy. Moreover, CPS received a federal grant from HUD. This allowed us to incorporate fair housing education and research into the Urban Studies program curriculum and facilitated outreach efforts. I invigorated CPS Advisor Board to play an active goal in our mission.
- We reached an agreement with the Tennessee Educational Leadership Conference (LEAD) to facilitate a smooth transition into the MPA program; we also partnered with the College of Agriculture, Human and Natural Sciences to produce a Global Information Systems (GIS) graduate degree program.
- We collaborate with the Tennessee Department of Corrections, Tennessee Bureau of Investigations, and Board of Parole to provide an executive program certificate in Public Administration Executive Leadership (Command College). As of Fall 2019, close to 100 students have graduated with a certificate and over 40 completed the MPS and MPA.
- Under my leadership our programs have been recognized and validated time and again at the national level:
  - Master of Public Administration, MPA, is accredited by NASPAA (Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs, and Administration). In 2019 we completed a successful re- accreditation for the maximum 7 years (until August 2026).

- Master of Professional Studies, MPS, is reviewed through an Academic Audit process required by THEC every five years. In 2019 the MPS degree completed a successful review.
- Master of Social Work, MSW, is accredited by Council on Social Work Education (CSWE). In 2017 the MSW program was successfully re-accredited for the maximum 8 years (until 2025).
- Bachelor of Science in Social Work (BSSW) is accredited by Council on Social Work Education (CSWE). In 2017 the BSSW program was successfully re-accredited until for the maximum 6 years (until 2023).
- Bachelor's Degree in urban studies, BS, is reviewed through an Academic Audit process required by THEC every five years. In 2017 the BS degree completed a successful review, earning the maximum re-accreditation.

Special Recognitions

- Selected as 2018-2019 Dean of the Year by the TSU Office of Student Activities.

Chancellor, Indiana University Kokomo 2010 – 2012

Responsibilities

As the Chancellor of Indiana University Kokomo, I was the Chief Executive Officer. I was responsible for the total operation of the campus, and was accountable to the Board of Trustees through the President of Indiana University. My vision led a fundamental transformation of IU Kokomo.

Initiatives

Growth

- Student enrollments were the highest in 67 years.
- Fund raising and donor numbers reached an all-time high (including a $1.25M gift – the largest in campus history). We raised 250% more than the average of the previous four years. That allowed us the opportunity to invest in student success and academic excellence.
- Sixteen new relevant, and current academic programs were begun and implemented with minimum cost. Among them: Master of Nursing; Bachelor of Science in Biochemistry; Bachelor of Fine Arts; Bachelor of Science in Psychology; Bachelor of Science in New Media.
- Campus infrastructure, renovation and beautification were elevated significantly (e.g. Havens Auditorium, Welcome Center, sidewalk infrastructure, and next generation classrooms).
- Established intercollegiate sports and within one year led an historic move joining the NAIA (Basketball, Volleyball, Etc.).
- Our work was recognized by the state Legislature. The 2012 -13 State Budget Appropriation Bill increased our appropriation by 9.7%.

Student Success & Academic Excellence

- Oversaw the design, planning, and all approvals for the construction of the Milt & Jean Cole Family Wellness and Fitness Center.
- Introduced “What Year Will You Graduate” drive and developed the “Student Success Tuition Discount Program,” which was featured in Innovation Exchange then went on to be recognized by the Federal Government Department of Education (DOE) and Lumina Foundation.

Special Recognitions

- Named “Person of the Year” by the Kokomo Perspective for “exceptional leadership” while the city of Kokomo was also “community of the year” by the Indiana chamber.
- Worked with university leaders to orchestrate IU Kokomo being ranked for the first time by U.S. News and World Report.

Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs, Kettering University 2007 – 2010

Responsibilities

As the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs I was responsible for all aspects of the academic mission of the University. My responsibilities included oversight of the academic budgets, the appointment of faculty and all academic and curricular matters. Additionally, I also served as the Vice President for Student Affairs.

Growth

- Implementation and development of new programs was a staple of my tenure. Among the programs: Pre-Med minor in Biochemistry, minor and concentration in Computer Systems & Data Security, minor and concentration in Computer Gaming, Bachelors of Business Administration, minor in Entrepreneurship, Chemical Engineering, and an Aerospace Specialty.
- Enhancing research and grants was a primary responsibility as Provost. Among grants secured were $1.651 million from the Kern Family Foundation as the Principal Investigator for the implementation of Entrepreneurship across the Curriculum and Institution. My tenure also facilitated the granting of $500,000 awarded by the Federal government to Kettering University, ECE Department, as part of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. The grant is for the purpose of creating new courses and the development of two laboratories focused on hybrid electronics, batteries and green power.

Student Success

- Developed and implemented an innovative program to teach Entrepreneurship Across the Curriculum (EAC). The goal was to enhance graduates' entrepreneurial mindset and leadership skills.
- Several initiatives were implemented to enhance student success and academic excellence, which resulted in retention increasing from 85.1% in 2007 to 94.3% in 2010

Partnerships

- Introducing a global collaborative focus was a major strategic goal. Negotiated agreements in China, Germany and Sweden.
- Developed an international collaboration in alternative energy - The Swedish Biogas Project. This project was a collaborative project between a Swedish business, the Swedish government, the Federal government, the state of Michigan and the city of Flint.
- Developed a professional partnership with SGMW (an automotive manufacturer in China), which resulted in a collaborative agreement with China Automotive Technological Research Center (CATRC).

Vice President for Academic Affairs, Ferris State University 2004 - 2007

Responsibilities

As the Vice President for Academic Affairs, I was responsible for all aspects of the academic mission of the University. These responsibilities included oversight of the academic budgets, the appointment of faculty, and all academic and curricular matters.

Initiatives

Student & Academic Program Success

- My focus was to implement a Learner-centered paradigm shift. Part of the effort was directed at major space renovation to facilitate the new approach to learning.
- Emphasis was placed on developing online courses, and ensuring faculty were equipped to excel in what was an emerging pedagogical terrain at the time. This included the successful approval from the Higher Learning Commission (HLC-NCA) allowing Ferris State University to deliver fully online certificate degrees.
- Sought efficiencies through analysis of small class sizes and programs with low enrollment. This work resulted in a 50% decrease in small classes between 2004 and 2007. Moreover, I developed a faculty growth model which colleges were rewarded for increased credit hour production.
- Oversaw several program accreditations, including the Schools of Pharmacy and Optometry.

Partnerships & Enhanced Visibility

- Initiated and led the University's selection and participation as one of eight universities nationwide in the Political Engagement Project (PEP) with AASCU.
- Designed and engaged in several collaborative projects, such as an effort with the Michigan Department of Labor and Economic Growth and Michigan Works to develop accelerated programming in Allied Health, Business and Technology to be delivered off campus to assist economic recovery in the Greenville, Michigan region.

Funding

- Received a $1M grant from Dow Chemicals toward a new Optometry building.

Associate Provost and VP for Academic Affairs, Eastern Michigan University
2000 – 2004 (Interim Provost 2001)

Responsibilities

Served as the second ranking academic officer at the University, and as the Chief Academic Officer in the absence of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Initiatives

Student & Academic Program Success

- Developed, implemented, and managed a comprehensive Program Review. While also initiating and completing a review of the curriculum, course and program development input process. I reviewed and signed into action over 3,000 academic changes.
- Successfully oversaw the preparations of the HLC reaccreditation self-study report and site visit.
- Coordinated and initiated academic efforts that resulted in a significant raise in graduation rates and degree completion, which included implementing Freshmen Interest Groups.
- As Interim Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and Professor, my focus was to engage the Division of Academic Affairs in a process of strategic planning. I led the development of the first comprehensive Strategic Plan (2002-2007). Several major outcomes were implemented such as the reassignment of Academic Human Resources functions to the Division of Academic Affairs. Specific plans were developed to enhance student success, degree completion, faculty recruitment, orientation, retention, support, promotion, tenure and professional development.
- We implemented major undergraduate and graduate policy changes that led to a decrease in course withdrawals, better progress toward degrees, an easier transfer process and improved student retention and credit hour productivity.

Growth

- We reached a new record of $15 million in grants and contracts for FY2001.
