About the Speaker

The Honorable Don Sundquist
Governor of Tennessee

Governor Don Sundquist was inaugurated as Tennessee's 47th governor in January 1995, after having served 12 years in the U.S. Congress. He was elected to a second term as governor in 1998. Under his watch, the growth of state government spending has been cut by more than half, allowing Gov. Sundquist to invest in his administration's priority areas: a safe, healthy start for children, excellence in education, economic opportunity, and protecting public safety, health and the environment.

Gov. Sundquist has worked with the Tennessee General Assembly to win approval for a wide array of programs that further the priorities he has set. For example, he worked with the General Assembly to initiate Families First, a statewide welfare reform program designed to move Tennesseans from welfare to work in 18 months. As a result, since 1996, Tennessee has seen a 60 percent reduction in the number of employable adults on welfare. Furthermore, under Gov. Sundquist's leadership, Tennessee led the nation by offering health insurance to every child who otherwise has no access to coverage.

In education, Gov. Sundquist completed a six-year, $1 billion increase in state funding to Tennessee schools through the Basic Education Program. Through his ConnectTen project, Tennessee became the first state in the nation to connect every public school and library to the Internet.

Under Gov. Sundquist's leadership, Tennessee has experienced four consecutive record years of economic development, topping $5.4 billion in capital investment in 1998. Since 1994, Tennessee has gained more than 186,000 jobs and personal income has increased by 13.3 percent.

Gov. Sundquist has appointed the most diverse Cabinet in the state's history and has named a record number of women to senior posts. He also has appointed a record number of female judges.

A resident of Shelby County, Tennessee, Gov. Sundquist is a graduate of Augustana College. He is married to Martha Swanson Sundquist and has three children and one grandchild.
