TENNESSEAN

JAMES A. TALLEY, Editor

WITH THE MONDRIAN LOOK FOR ITS DESIGN, THE 1967 TENNESSEAN ATTEMPTS A DIFFERENCE IN APPEARANCE AS ONE ASPECT OF ITS TWO-FOLD PRESENTATION.

IN ITS CONTENTS, A SINCERE ATTEMPT TOWARD AN HONEST AND CANDID LOOK AT THE YEAR'S ACTIVITIES AT TENNESSEE STATE UNIVERSITY (WHATEVER THEY MIGHT HAVE BEEN) HAS BEEN MADE. IN OTHER WORDS, THROUGH ITS PICTURES AND FACTUAL WRITTEN DATA, THE 1967 TENNESSEAN IS JUST SORT OF CASUALLY "TELLING IT LIKE IT IS" (OR WAS)

DURING SCHOOL YEAR 1966-67 AS ASPECT NUMBER TWO OF ITS PRESENTATION.

AS USUAL, SOME END-OF-THE-SCHOOL-YEAR ACTIVITIES HAVE BEEN MISSED BECAUSE OF THE DEADLINE FOR SUBMITTING COPY AND PICTURES TO THE PRINTER. BUT YOUR PLEASURE WAS KEPT IN MIND AS THE FACTS AND PICTURES AT HAND WERE COMPILED.

AND WITH THE PICTORIAL HELP OF THE UNIVERSITY'S TWINS (MAUREEN AND DAPHNE CLAYBON, DENNIS AND DONNA CRAWFORD, JAMES CLARENCE AND JAMES DAVID DELOACH, KENNETH AND KERRY JENKINS, MARIE AND MAUREEN MALLETT, JOHN MARVIN AND JAMES MELVIN SMITH, WILLIAM S. AND HOWARD S. THORNTON) TO TIE THE WHOLE THING TOGETHER, THE 1967 TENNESSEAN HOPES TO. . .

♦ ♦ ♦ DOUBLE YOUR PLEASURE

ACADEMICS

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION

The Department of Agricultural Education is designed primarily to prepare students to teach vocational agriculture in secondary schools of Tennessee.

Students in a Farm Mechanics course and instructor finish the construction of sides for a $\frac{3}{4}$ -ton truck. Employing the skills of construction and self-help students learn to save labor costs.

Students with instructor, H. C. Hardy, study principles of cotton and tobacco culture, with respect to fertilizing, and producing.

PLANT SCIENCE

The Department of Plant Science is a service area for the School of Agriculture. Two curricula are offered with a major in Agronomy and one in Horticulture for students who wish special training in the science of this special area.

ANIMAL SCIENCE

The Department of Animal Science consists of three areas of instruction: Animal Husbandry, Poultry Husbandry, and Biochemistry. Courses are designed to give instruction in principles of livestock production and management.

In the Biochemistry Lab Dr. Andrew Bond and students study the chemical nature of the constituents of protoplasm. The course is required of majors in agricultural biochemistry, animal husbandry and poultry husbandry.

E. J. Thorton, poultry husbandry professor, instructs students in Principles and Practices of Incubation and Brooding. The course is designed to give the environmental factors affecting incubation.

Meat and Meat products, as seen in this class taught by Dr. Roland Norman, is the study of practices in butchering, cutting, processing and preserving farm meats.

In a class in clothing construction home economics majors study principles of clothing construction as applied to synthetic and blended fabrics.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics Curricula are Child Development and Family Relationship, Clothing and Textiles, Foods and Nutrition, and Home Economics Education.

This class in Creative Arts for Young Children, taught by Mrs. M. P. Maxwell, places emphasis on the young child's use of materials such as molding materials, paints, paper, books, and musical equipment.

A class in Home Furnishing and Interior Decoration gives basic principles and shows how to use these principles in achieving results that are functional, beautiful, individual and personally satisfying.

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

Courses in the Department of Biological Sciences are designed to fulfill the requirements in the areas of teacher education, professional training for the medical branches, including health and sanitation and basic biological services, graduate training of in-service teachers and professionals and service courses for other departments.

Dr. John Mallatte gives personal attention to students doing advanced individual research in a course in Methods of Research.

Students in biology learn the fundamentals of biology through studies of biological principles as illustrated by types of organisms, their activities and life processes. Henry A. Kean, Jr. (3rd from left) is the teacher.

In a general chemistry lab Miss Doris Simmons assists beginning students learning fundamental laws and theories of Chemistry.

Rudolph Woodberry instructs a lab in Qualitative Analysis which concerns principles underlying ionic equilibria in solutions.

CHEMISTRY

The Chemistry Department curriculum is designed to offer a collegiate major in chemistry which satisfies the criteria generally adopted by the leading colleges and universities of the United States and by the American Chemical Society.

Another general chemistry lab studies the descriptive chemistry of important elements and compounds.

The University Psychological Services Workers Curriculum is a two-year graduate program which prepares students for careers as psychological service workers in public schools. Students acquire skill in administering, scoring and processing individual psychological tests. The program is supported by two-year fellowships of $2,000 each year.

PSYCHOLOGY

Courses in the Department of Psychology are designed to satisfy the needs of two groups of students: those who desire to major in psychology as preparation for a career in the field, for extensive training as background for social work, personal work, medicine or psychiatry, and those who desire psychology training as a part of the professional work for classroom teaching and other public school work.

ENGLISH

The program of the Department of English is so arranged as to serve the needs of all the students of the University, as well as to give a thorough foundation to those who desire to become teachers or specialists in the field.

Dr. Robert J. Hudson lectures to a class in English literature on major English works from the Anglo-Saxon Period to the Twentieth Century.

Students in natural science lab study use of scientific methods in problem-solving developed through experiences in classroom, field and laboratory.

SCIENCE EDUCATION AND GEOGRAPHY

The Department's program is designed to meet the needs of two groups of students: those who wish to qualify for secondary school science teaching in several science fields, and those from other curricula of the university who wish to take service courses in the area of science education and or geography.

Associate Professor of Geography Henry Hymes lectures a class in elements of geography.

ADMINISTRATION CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTIONS

The Department of Administration Curriculum and Instruction is designed primarily for the training of teachers. It consists of a curriculum in elementary education offering the bachelor of science degree; and courses in secondary education, library science and special education.

Administration Curriculum and instruction major Clarice Mason (center) gets first-hand experience in direct observation, participation and teaching in the secondary grades at Pearl High School.

HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE

The Department of History and Political Science offers a curriculum leading to the bachelor's degree in each of its two areas.

Dr. Alonzo Stephens lectures an American History class on the beginning of our National State from 1789-1877.

MODERN FOREIGN LANGUAGES

The curricula encompass courses leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree in French or Spanish with or without certification.

Students in intermediate French review grammar and further develop to read, speak, write and understand French.

Beginning Spanish students learn to develop ability to understand, speak, write and read Spanish.

In an advanced Physics Laboratory students study centrifugal force measurement under Edward McKay.

Physics professor Donald Savoy assists students in a Math lab.

PHYSICS AND MATHEMATICS

The Department of Physics and Mathematics offers programs leading to the degrees of bachelor of science and bachelor of arts with a major in Physics or Mathematics.

SOCIOLOGY

The Department of Sociology offers the bachelor's degree in social administration and sociology.

A Caseworker gets factual data from a client to assist her with a personal problem as an integral part of interviewing and case recording.

Social Administration majors work with a family with two pre-adolescent children who are having adjustment problems.

SPEECH AND DRAMA

The Departmental program in Speech and Drama is divided into two areas: Speech and Drama and Speech Correction. Chief function of the department is to train teachers in areas of Speech and Drama for public schools, colleges, and universities.

This class in public speaking stresses practice of speech composition and delivery. Students have opportunity to present short information speeches.

Students in a Drama Class study and practice fundamentals of acting technique with emphasis on voice, posture, and gesture.

ART AND MUSIC EDUCATION

The Department of Art and Music Education is organized to serve the State's art and music structure through teacher education, leadership and state-wide cooperation.

Students in manuscript writing for elementary education majors develop skill in simple letter forms to facilitate teaching reading in first elementary grades.

ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The Department of Economics and Business Administration offers courses to students planning careers in accounting, insurance and banking, financing, marketing, real estate and salesmanship.

An Elementary Accounting course, basic course in accounting theory and practice, is prerequisite to all other courses in accounting. The class is taught by Mrs. Mildred K. Gaines.

Robert M. Holzmer lectures on auditing procedures, which include principles of auditing and a critical examination of financial statements.

Students in this class of office machines receive basic instruction and training to develop reasonable skill in the operation of the calculation, duplicating and voice-writing machines.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The Department of Business Education's Curriculum consists of teacher education and secretarial science.

In advanced shorthand and transcription students learn skill in taking dictation and in typewritten transcription.

To spike or to block is an essential factor in the game of volleyball. These students gain knowledge of both from the instructor, Willie Stevens.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Department of Health and Physical Education's Curriculum is designed to serve all students of the University by contributing to their health, organic vigor, and good mental and physical habits. The Department prepares prospective teachers in the field of Health Education, Physical Education and Athletic Coaching.

In a Wrestling class students demonstrate an action maneuver known as "The Escape." The instructor is Lawrence Simmons.

In Fundamentals and Techniques of Basketball students demonstrate the correct procedure for accuracy in passing and follow-through.

Students in Folk and Square Dance learn basic steps and patterns of square dance and folk dances from other countries.

A class in health examination discusses Heart Diseases, a Leading Cause of Death in the United States. Instructor is Dr. Pearl J. Gunter.

ENGINEERING

The School of Engineering is divided into two articulated components of technical education, namely: 1. A bachelor of science degree program with curricula in architectural, civil, electrical and mechanical engineering. 2. An industrial education program with teacher training curricula in industrial arts education and aviation education, both of which lead to the bachelor of science degree.

Howard Fall studies design of architectural problems of a complex nature involving principles of organic order and use of structural elements.

Students are seen testing properties of wood and metal in a class on material testing.

William Harper lectures to students in an industrial education methods class.

INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

The Department of Industrial Education is designed to prepare young men and women for gainful occupation in Industrial Arts Education, Vocational Industrial Education and Aviation Education.

Harry Lash assists students in engineering graphics, a course required of all engineering and industrial education students.

Students watch instructor Thomas Brooks as he demonstrates elementary principles of direct and alternating current generation.

Students Rally To AAS Blood Drive

The Arnold Air Society is a National Air Force ROTC organization for outstanding cadets enrolled in the professional officer course. The University's chapter has come to be known for its annual twice-a-year blood drives. Students of other organizations look forward to participating in the event and contesting for awards. The organization also sponsored AFROTC activity month in April.

At the Arnold Air Society induction ceremonies conducted at WRC cafeteria this year, the oath was administered by Capt. Charles Rachel, USAF.

ARTS AND SCIENCES RESEARCH FACULTY

Evenly matched are the number of research papers, articles submitted to professional journals, and books in their respective fields which may be attributed to recent wieldings of the pen by Arts and Sciences faculty members.

Of the eight projects, most are privately endowed by their creators while others are sanctioned and financed by government and industrial agencies, such as Dr. Alonzo Stephens' American Association for the United Nations-Financed study on "Southern Factionalism in South Africa Minority Rule," and Dr. John Mallett's National Science Foundation-sponsored cancer therapy research with drugs and chemicals. On his own, Dr. Martin Chanin of the Chemistry Department is conducting research on "Synthesis of Anti-Carcinogens."

Included among the less formidable titles of recently written articles and books by faculty members in the area of Arts and Sciences are Dr. Leonard C. Archer's "A Study of World Literature," Dr. Amrit Lal's "Politics and Administration of India," and Dr. G. M. Sawyer's "Negro Colleges for the Great Society?"

Dr. Robert O. Abernathy, Professor of Mathematics and Head of the Department of Physics and Mathematics.

Dr. Rutherford H. Adkins, Part-time Instructor of Physics.

Dr. Leonard C. Archer, Professor of English and Speech.

Dr. Alberta G. Barrett, Professor of English.

Dr. Wendolyn Y. Bell, Professor of Spanish and Head of the Department of Modern Foreign Languages.

Dr. Landry E. Burgess, Part-time Instructor in Biology.

Dr. James A. Campbell, Associate Professor of Biology and Chairman of the Lower Division, Department of Biological Sciences.

Dr. Martin Chanin, Associate Professor of Chemistry.

Dr. John R. Cottin, Professor of Modern Foreign Languages.

Dr. Jerry D. Crosby, Professor of Education.

Dr. Hubert B. Crouch, Professor of Biology and Dean of the Graduate School.

Dr. Edward N. Cullum, Associate Professor of History.

Dr. George L. Davis, Professor of History and Coordinator of the Curriculum in Political Science.

Dr. Winston C. Farrar, Professor and Head of the Department of Chemistry.

Dr. Sadie C. Gasaway, Associate Professor of Mathematics.

Dr. Ronald Goldman, Part-time Instructor in Speech.

Dr. Robert J. Hudson, Professor of English and Chairman of Upper Division, Department of English.

Dr. Granville Sawyer, Professor of Communications, and Executive Assistant to the President.

Dr. Alonzo T. Stephens, Professor of History and Head of the Department of History and Political Science.

Dr. Richard W. Stream, part-time instructor in Speech and Drama.

Dr. Sherman Webster, Professor and Head of the Department of Sociology.

Dr. Jayme C. Williams, Professor of speech.

Dr. Henderson K. Wood, Professor and Head of the Department of Biological Sciences.

Dr. Raleigh A. Wilson, Professor of History.

EDUCATION RESEARCH FACULTY

The Tennessee Valley Authority is listed as sponsor of Dr. Calvin O. Atchison's Land-Grant Colleges Co-operative study of college Seniors at the University. Along with the TVA-sponsored study, Dr. Atchison has conducted a talent search all over the state of Tennessee under sponsorship of the United States Office of Education.

Dr. Atchison's projects are two of seven listed by the School of Education Research Faculty members for the 1966-67 school year. Listed among the other five are Dr. Robert Cobb's study in "Physical Education for the Physically and Mentally Atypical," and Dr. Joseph A. Payne's "A Follow-Up Study of Students Making Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Dr. Cobb and Dr. Atchison both have added published works to their credit this year. Dr. Atchison's "Relationship Between Some Intellectual and Non-Intellectual Factors of High Anxiety and Low Anxiety of Negro College Students" appeared in the January, 1967 Journal of Negro Education. His "Values of Teachers" went to the January 1967 Educational Forum. Scheduled for Spring, 1968 release by Allyn and Bacon is Dr. Cobb's just-finished book entitled "Personal Hygiene for College Students."

Dr. Thomas J. Anderson, Jr., Professor of Music.

Dr. Calvin O. Atchison, Professor of Psychology and Coordinator of Graduate Studies and Research in Education.

Dr. Montraville I. Claiborne, Professor and Head of the Department of Psychology.

Dr. Robert S. Cobb, Professor and Head of the Department of Health and Physical Education.

Dr. Cecille E. Crump, Professor and Head of the Department of Business Education.

Dr. Pearl M. Dansby, Professor of Psychology.

Dr. Herbert E. Dawson, Professor of Psychology.

Dr. Dorothy W. Draper, Professor of Education.

Dr. Charles B. Fancher, Professor of Education and Director of Student Teaching.

Head Coach, John A. Merritt joined the Century Club this year following his Homecoming victory.

"But have you tried Metrecal?"

Big Blues Crack Four School Records

The 1966 Tiger grid edition was just what everyone hoped they would be . . . "out of sight."

The blue and white-silked Merrittmen extended their winning string to 24 games without a loss for the school's second-longest winning streak, grabbed off the New Pittsburgh Courier's and Atlanta-based 100% Wrong Club's National Collegiate football championships, won the team's first full share of the NCAA's Mid-East Region football crown and set four and tied two school grid records while waltzing through 10 straight games undefeated and untied.

Eleven seniors, of which Gene Bowen, Alvin Coleman, Howard Finley, Leon Moore, Nolan Smith, and Bill Tucker were drafted by the pros, clicked to create one of the most awesome pigskin forces in the University's half-century on the gridiron.

Honors poured in for the team, and praises, prizes and acclaim were heaped upon individual stars. Eldridge Dickey, Bill Tucker and Claude Humphrey were singularly honored as the first from the Big Blue squad to be named to the Nashville Banner's All Area football team. Fullback Tucker was selected to play for the South in both the Blue-Gray and the Senior Bowl games. Quarterback Dickey, who will be around for another year, was tabbed by the Courier and 100% Wrong Club as the Player of the Year. The Royal Crown Company and the New Pittsburgh Courier feted Humphrey, Tucker and Dickey and presented them with emblmed blazers as members of their All-American team.

The Big Blues ended their year's campaign looking like pros to a regional audience that watched the ABC-televsied Grantland Rice Bowl game. For the gigantic grid season, United Press International and the Associated Press ranked the John A. Merritt-coached juggernaut as the nation's number-two college division football team.

New marks are: Most points in a single season—416; Longest pass play—79 yards (Dickey to Robinson); Pass Receptions—40 catches for 640 yards (Robinson, end); Most yards gained rushing in four years—1637 (Bowen).

Dickey and Coach Merritt accepted the W. A. Scott Memorial trophy from W. A. Scott, III, as a symbol of the Atlanta-based 100% Wrong Club's selection as the National Collegiate Football Champions for 1966.

Featured speaker for the 32nd annual 100% Wrong Club Jamboree, New York Giants' newly acquired quarterback, Fran Tarkenton, with elegant Eldridge Dickey.

Elijah Bossie, Quarterback

Alvin Coleman, Safety

Gene Bowen, Setback

William Tucker, Setback

Howard Finley, Cornerback

Joe C. Smith, Setback

Nolan Smith, Flankerback

Leon Moore, Cornerback

Mack Lamb, Cornerback

Team's leading ground-gainer, Gene Bowen (31) got off to a good start from the opening game.

The core of the Tigers' defensive might: End Harold Rice, middle guard Ken Brady, tackle Claude Humphrey, end Thomas McCord, and line-backer Don Merritt.

31—Grambling—23

Exactly 14,739 fans were on hand to watch Eldridge Dickey put on a second-half one-man show that gave the Tennessee State Tigers a 31-23 victory over Grambling College.

Trailing 7-16, Dickey opened the second half, used Nolan Smith, John Robinson, Leo Johnson, and Wayne Reese to score four TDs while hitting 20 of 31 passes. Dickey posted a new individual, single-game passing record.

Roy Meneese kicked four straight extra points and a 20-yard field goal to up his specialist total to 17 points for the year.

Coach Eddie Robinson's Bayou Country Lads were the only team to cross the Big Blue's goal line more than once during the entire season.

55—North Carolina A. & T.—0

Greensboro provided a perfect football afternoon for North Carolina A. & T. and Merritt's might to open the 1966 Pigskin season for the two traditional grid powers.

Merritt's dazzling cutie pie Quarterback Eldridge Dickey sneaked over from the one-yard stripe for the game's first score. Seniors Gene Bowen and Bill Tucker churned up the Tarheels' turf in sparking a 20-0 halftime score.

Dickey's radar-directed aerials tallied 35 points in the closing half while the Big Blues' defensive might kept the Aggies from crossing their goal line.

55—Texas Southern—0

The season's curtain-raiser in W. J. Hale Stadium pitted the Tigers against a Texas Southern Eleven from Dickey's hometown, Houston.

From the crack of the opening gun, the Merritt-coached Tigers served notice on the grid-world that they were out to do an encore of the 1966 national championship season.

Pounding the Texans for 33 points in the first half, the Big Blues, led by understudy Quarterback Bob Shannon, racked Southern for 19 more points. In two ball games the awesome football force unleashed by Coach Merritt had outscored the opponents 108 to 0.

Senior Bill Tucker (32) played in both the Blue-Grey and the Senior Bowl games this year.

What Dickey (large arrow) has to spot in a hurry: which aerial targets to hit: Tucker (32) splitting the defenders going to the outside or John Robinson (82) executing a hook pattern.

Reception committee . . . an entire forward wall set on a collision course with Tucker (32).

29—Florida A. & M.—0

The Merrittmen were the manufacturers of heart-aches all season. Under a bright Florida sun, Merritt's Marauders defanged the Florida A. & M. Rattlers before 14,500 disbelieving fans.

The Merrittmen held the playful Rattlers scoreless for the first time in 16 years, first loss in Bragg Memorial Stadium since it was erected in 1957 and the first defeat in Tallahassee since Morris Brown turned the trick (20-13) more than a decade and a half ago.

Cornerback Craig Gilliam interrupted a Rattler aerial to set up the game's first score. Starting from their own 40, Leo Johnson's pass catching and Gene Bowen's running moved the ball to the Rattlers' 12. From there, Roy Meneese booted a 22-yard field goal for three points.

Applying pressure to the passer.

31—Southern University—9

Playing the spoiler's role, the Tigers romped over previously unbeaten Southern before an overflow crowd at W. J. Hale Stadium.

The first half turned out to be a defensive struggle between the two national powers. Tennessee State took a 7-3 halftime lead with their half-time score coming in the first quarter. Eldridge Dickey tossed a 34-yard aerial to Leo Johnson for the TD, and Southern in the closing minutes of the half kicked a 24-yard field goal.

In the third stanza, the Dickey-led Tigers scored on a one-yard run by Bill Tucker. Then, Southern came up with an 8-yard TD pass of their own, pushing the score to 14-9.

Throwing their offensive scoring machine into high gear, the Tigers began to pull away. Tucker went over again from the two and Joe Cooper caught a 15-yard field goal by Roy Meneese.

The victory kept the Tiger string of 19 games without a defeat intact and pushed their season's record to 5-0.

28—Morris Brown University—0

On a rain-soaked field, a Memphis-born pair, Howard Finley and Claude Humphrey, combined to block Willie Carter's punt and to carry the ball into the end zone for the game's first TD, providing W. J. Hale Stadium fans with some wet-weather pigskin excitement by showing off the scoring punch of Merritt's defensive team.

Jet-assisted Nolan Smith electrified the crowd when he returned the second half kick-off 85 yards for another touchdown. More scoring came at the hands of the defensive team when Nashville-produced cornerback, Leon Moore, intercepted a Wolverine pass and outraced the defenders for the game's final score.

With only three games left on the regular season's schedule at this point, the Tigers held the third-longest (20) winning string in the school's history.

28—Lincoln University—6

Flankerback Nolan Smith led his teammates to the Mid-western Athletic Association football championship and the second annual St. Louis-staged Gateway Classic victory by thumping Lincoln's eleven in the first collegiate grid game in the new Busch Stadium.

Smith opened the game's first-half scoring when he took a Dickey-directed pass and galloped 70 yards to paydirt. Merritt's Sherman-tank-like setback, Bowen, blasted over the goal line on a one-yard plunge for the game's second score. Lincoln countered with a single TD at intermission's whistle.

Sporting a 14-6 margin opening the third stanza, Smith staged his second scoring rampage of the afternoon. The pint-sized speedster scampered 58 yards to the end zone with another Dickey pass and then brought the frost-bitten stadium crowd to its feet with a scoring, 70-yard punt return. For his afternoon's work, Smith collected 198 yards and three TD's.

The Tigers' co-captains: Junior middle guard Ken Brady and senior Bill Tucker.

Promising sophomore, Memphis-born Leroy Motten (22) broke to the sideline for a long-gainer in the St. Louis-staged Gateway Classic before a slim crowd in the new Busch Stadium.

39—Allen University—6

Running their season record to 8-0, Dickey and company thrashed Allen University 39-6 before 4,000-plus fans who had come to Columbia, South Carolina, to see the team's super star perform.

The Associated Press-small college second-rated football power, playing without Bill Tucker and Eugene Bowen, the two leading ground gainers, were led by sophomore Leroy Motten who scored three touchdowns. Tennessee picked up 20 points in the first half on TD's of which 26 yards were made by Motten and a 54-yard punt return by little Nolan Smith.

The Big Blues scored twice in the third quarter on a six-yard pass to John Robinson from Elijah Bossie, and a 28-yard scamper by Motten, to ice the team's 22 games without a loss. Allen then scored on a 71-yard drive before Tennessee wrapped up the scoring with Wayne Reese bulling over from five yards out in the final period.

Women's Track coach Ed Temple, former Basketball coach John B. McLendon and former football coach Howard Gentry received public encomium from the Student Council for their 1956 championship teams.

Shortly after the Homecoming festivities, the Atlanta-based 100% Wrong Club began angling to honor the Big Blues at their 32nd Jamboree. Shown at the banquet are Tarkenton, Dickey, Wrong Club President Al Thompson, Coach Merritt, and Charles W. Adams, vice-president of the Coca-Cola Company.

83—Kentucky State—0

Under a sun-bright sky that rained touchdowns, the Tigers threw for eight, ran for three and covered a fumble in the Thorobred end zone for a 12-touchdown afternoon.

Scoring every way possible in a football game, the Merritteers led 49-0 at intermission. The 21 points in the first quarter, 28 in the second, 14 in the third and 20 in the final frame gave the Tigers an iron-clad hold on the Little Brown Jug for the 17th straight year.

Dickey countered his ground attack with two 61 and 43-yard scoring passes to senior flankerback Nolan Smith who was one of 11 four-year men playing their final game for the hometown crowd. The remaining seniors are Alvin Coleman, Eddie Bolden, Craig Gil-lam, Elijah Bossie, Mack Lamb, Bill Tucker, Gene Bowen, Howard Finley, Joe C. Smith, and Leon Moore.

During halftime, the University's Student Council honored the school's three national championship teams of 1956. Coaches Edward S. Temple, women's track, Howard C. Gentry, football, and John B. Mc-Lendon, basketball, were presented Student Council proclamations during the intermission ceremony by Obie McKenzie, Student Council President.

GRANTLAND RICE-BOWL

34—Muskingum—7

Under a cold, wet December sky, more than 4,000 fans sat soaked while matador-like Quarter-back Dickey picked Muskingum's defense apart and threw radar-directed passes as he nimbly avoided onrushing linemen.

The brave fans had come to see Dickey perform, and he obliged them by leading his mates to the school's first "Whole-hog," NCAA Mid-East Foot-ball Championship.

For the rain-snow-chilled fans and the thou-sands who watched the ABC Regional Telecast, Dickey gave a dazzling performance. When play-by-play telecaster Jim McIntyre signed off, Dickey's arm had accounted for 316 yards of the team's 405 total offensive yardage and three touch-downs.

The Murfreesboro-staged Grantland Rice victory ran the Tigers' win-string to 24 games and rang down the curtain on a perfect (10-0) season that saw four school grid marks shattered and two tied.

Head Coach Harold Hunter

Assistant Coach Richard Miller

Stellar season's play won Hunter's gunners a plane to NCAA regional post-season playoffs.

A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Basketball Court

This season's hardwood aces shot the blue-silked netburners into post-season play to end a three-year drouth. Closing the regularly scheduled play with a 19-7 record, the Harold Hunter-coached quint earned itself a berth in the 1967 NCAA South-East Regional college division cage tournament at Evansville, Ind.

Despite the superior year's record, Hunter's gunners started and ended the season on what has to be the most hilarious notes in college cage history.

Two for Waller in a losing cause opening the playoffs at Evansville.

Opening the season before a jammed-packed Kean's Little Garden, Hunter's dribble experts' first game had to be rescheduled seconds after the final stanza began because the floor was too slippery to continue for Kentucky Wesleyan's coach Guy Strong. The tilt had been delayed for more than an hour during the opening half while the entire floor was mopped twice.

In the team's final contest (South-East Regional consolation round), an error by the official scorer made Hunter's 20th win a much tougher game.

With the Big Blues leading 39-31 near the mid-point of the second half, scorer Bill Biber credited a basket to Stetson instead of Tennessee State. The timer, Dr. J. Harry Whetstone, rightfully put the two points on the scoreboard under TSU. With the scoreboard reading a 10-point advantage, two Hatters scored successive buckets.

At this point, scorer Biber stopped the game and had the scoreboard adjusted to read 39-37 TSU. This act brought a hurried conference of coaches, officials and official table personnel. The officials, also, polled press row, who all had 41-35 Tennessee as the game score, after which they ordered the scorer's figures put on the clock and resumed the game.

Minutes after the final whistle, scorer Biber announced that he had made a mistake and the winning score was 65-53 TSU instead of the 63-55 as appeared on the scoreboard.

Sandwiched somewhere between funny episodes the Hunter-coached twine-burners notched a 20-8 season record that included winning two tournament titles—Music City and Freeport Invitational—and grabbing consolation hardware in two more.

Henry Watkins, center, forward, guard, paced the team's net-burning most of the season. Ten points garnered in the final tilt boosted his season's team-leading total to 417 points. Trailing Watkins for second honors, 6-9 center Ed Johnson zeroed 390 tallies. Watkins and Johnson did a turn-about in the rebounding department. Johnson led his teammates with 321 while Watkins trailed with 273 for the season.

From the floor the Huntermen salvaged for 2056 points while limiting their opponents to 1864.

BASEBALL

Coach Raymond Whitmon

The diamond crews' traditional opening foe, Quincy College, played the second game this year.

A Year For Building

By the time this book hits the street, the Tiger horsehide belters will know the results of this season. But at this point (just before meeting the TENNESSEAN's deadline) the Raymond Whitmon-coached stickmen have played a mere third of their schedule and are 5-4 on the season.

Beginning his 14th year as the Big Blues' diamond mentor, Whitmon confessed, "Our outfield should be much better this year, and our pitching should be the most improved team position."

The Big Blues began the year with a sparkling outlook because they had eight returning lettermen, including two seniors—Larry Cole and Allen Robinson. Other than the two seniors, one junior, four sophomores and two freshmen carried the starting lead.

WOMEN'S TRACK

Coach Edward S. Temple

Another Good Year for the Tigerbelles

Newspaper headlines such as "A. & I. Girls Ready for AAU Meet," and "Tigerbelles Favored in National Outdoor Meet," signified the start for the Ed Temple-coached Tigerbelles' 1966-67 season. The Tigerbelles successfully took the AAU Women's National Outdoor Track and Field Championships held at Frederick, Maryland, on June 30, July 1, 2, 1966. Continuing their domination of the cinderpath, Temple's fast foursome set a new American record in the 440-yard relay. Running on the State "A" team, with a winning time of 45.7 seconds, were Evelyn Harvey, Marcella Daniel, Mattilene Render, and Tammy Davis. Wyomia Tyus was the only double winner in the finals as she captured the 100-yard dash in 10.5 seconds and the 220 with a 24.0. Martha Watson finished second in the long jump with a 19-9/4 lead and Eleanor Montgomery won the high jump in 5-7. Teammate Estelle Baskerville was second.

the 10th Maple Leaf Indoor Track Games at Toronto, Canada. Eleanor Montgomery tied for first in the women's high jump at 5-7 3/4. Estelle Baskerville, took third at 5-7. Madeline Manning finished second in the women's 880 and Lottie Thomas third in the women's 50-yard hurdles.

Paced by co-ed Manning's record-equalling 880-yard run, the Tigerbelles captured the National AAU Women's Indoor Track and Field Championships at Oakland, California, for the ninth time in the past eleven years. Miss Manning was voted the outstanding woman of the meet. Martha Watson set a new long jump meet record with a leap of 20 feet 6 1/2 inches.

The girls from Templesville finished 1-2 in the high jump. Miss Montgomery won the event at 5-9 and Estelle Baskerville took second at 5-7.

The Tigerbelles' sprint medley relay team broke the existing AAU indoor record by four seconds. Wyomia Tyus, Madeline Manning, Mattilene Render, and Marcella Daniels comprise the team. Miss Tyus, the Olympic gold medalist and holder of five world sprint rewards, won the 60-yard dash but was two-tenths of a second off her world record. She was clocked in 6.7. Newcomer Una Morris won the 220 in 25.0.

Wait 'Til Next Year

If one has read anything about the Tigersharks, he knows that they splashed for a 6-4 season. And too, he would be aware of names like freestylers James Jackson, Dick Hammond, and Robert Roy. From the published reports, Julius Lee's point-winning diving would have caught his eye and the attention of most swimming fans.

Yet, the most amazing single point about this year's Tigershark crop, who have battered some of the scheduled opponents by as much as 59 points, is that every single one of them will return for collegiate tank competition next season.

Without being too fast with the praise, Coach Thomas H. Hughes should be looking forward to next season with a great deal of anticipation because it would not be premature to say now that next year this team should be completely "out of sight."

Honored for a quarter-century of tank coaching . . . America's Collegiate Swimming Coaches Association presented its Service Award to Tigershark mentor Thomas H. Aristocrat of Bands Plays For LBJ'S Visit

A cross section of the band on the grounds of the Hermitage playing for festivities in connection with LBJ's Nashville visit.

The University's marching band, dubbed "The Aristocrat of Bands," played for its usual round of half-time shows at football games this year. But the piece de resistance was the band's playing, at the invitation of Tennessee Governor Buford Ellington, for the Nashville visit of President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. The occasion was at the Hermitage, home of seventh president of the United States, Andrew Jackson, on the 200th birthday anniversary celebration of "Old Hickory." The band made trips to Tallahassee, Florida for the FAMU-Tennessee State game and to St. Louis, Missouri, for the Gateway Football Classic between Lincoln University and the Tigers. A post-season trip was made to Murfreesboro for the Grantland Rice Bowl game between the Tigers and Muskingum College, and the band also made its annual trip to Hartsville, Tennessee, for the Tobacco Bowl game between top high schools of the State.

Band members load up on Greyhounds for the run from their St. Louis hotel quarters to Busch Stadium and the Gateway Classic.

Ques March For March of Dimes

Members of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity were active, this year, in door-to-door solicitations for the city-wide March of Dimes Campaign as a Winter Quarter activity. Other successful activities included a smoker and a Mardi-Gras, both in April, but intramural basketball proved too much this year for the Omega team known as the Que Underdogs, as the hardwood contingent went down to defeat in every game. Melvin Wrenn is fraternity president, Dr. Leonard C. Archer, adviser.

The Fraternity hymn is sung by Linwood Puryear, Theophilus Worrell, Cornelius Freeman, Larry Herring and Bobby Olive after the death of an Omega Psi Phi founder in February.

Faculty advisers to the very busy Debate Society are Troy L. Jones and Alfred Tyler. This year the podium crew entered into public debate at Jackson State and Tougaloo Colleges in Mississippi. They were winners of six victories in the Inter-Collegiate Forensic Association in February at Knoxville, where they lost in debates against teams from David Lipscomb and East Tennessee. The debators hosted meets against Chicago City College, Jackson State College and Tougaloo College.

Other road meets included the Mint Julep Tournament at Memphis State College in February, Brooklyn City College in March, and the National Invitational at Louisville, Kentucky, in April.

T. S. U. PLAYERS GUILD

The Tennessee State Players Guild was relatively inactive this year as the usually live-wire organization's home site (The Administration Building) was under renovation. Scenes, props and costumes had to be stored and there was no theater in which to perform.

New members were accepted through tryouts in the Student Union and the organization stayed together by participating in one-act plays for their own enjoyment at regular weekly meetings.

The group, whose performances have come to be well known and looked-forward-to by the Nashville public, will be back in business at the same old stand in new dress next school year. Dr. Thomas E. Poag is faculty adviser and director of the Players Guild.

SCA Conducts Food Basket Drive

The Student Christian Association conducted a campus-wide drive for Thanksgiving Day; food baskets for distribution to needy families in the Nashville area. Solicitations for donations to the drive went to all campus organizations. Culmination of the project was held on Thanksgiving Day at 5:00 a.m. when the SCA sponsored a Sunrise-Service in the University Auditorium, accepted food items from other organizations and assembled the baskets for distribution. Campus Religious Emphasis Week activities in February were also sponsored by the SCA. Wilburn Smith is president, Dr. W. J. Simmons, adviser.

Mid-Day Retreat, BSU Sponsored

Throughout the school year, the Baptist Student Union held weekly Mid-Day Retreats to which all campus students were invited. Another weekly activity of the organization was its series of Bible Study parties held at the off-campus Baptist Student Center. At these affairs, dubbed parties, the students delved into thorough studies of various books of the Bible. Pet project for the group this year was regular visits to Jefferson Street Nursing Home For The Aged for the purpose of bringing good cheer and gifts of fruit to the residents. Gwendolyn Boyd served as this year's BSU president with Mrs. Katie K. White as faculty adviser. Representatives from the club attended the BSU Spring Retreat at Tallahassee, Florida, in April.

Meter Has Its Woes

Financial problems plagued the Meter staff all year as they battled to keep editions coming to their student-reader public. Billed as a twice-monthly publication, the student newspaper staffers considered themselves lucky to put out quarterly editions of their journalistic four-pager this year. Whittier Sengstacke is editor of the Meter and his immediate assistant is Edward J. Harris, who also serves the paper as photographer. Toward year's end, money problems abated and Editor Sengstacke made the decision to publish weekly thereby easing the news hunger pangs of his peers.

Tennessean Christens New Staff

James A. Talley, a senior architectural engineering major and a three-year veteran on the Yearbook staff, was this year's TENNESSEAN editor. Talley also served as one of the Yearbook photographers.

With a spanking-brand-new slate of staff members, the 1967 TENNESSEAN found itself off and running with unheralded zest and enthusiasm. Editor James Talley was the only veteran staffer on this year's book. This novel phenomenon left the door wide open for coveted section editorial spots competition, for although the Yearbook editor-in-chief is elected to the post by the Student Council Publications Board (his choice based on established criteria), section editors are appointed by the Yearbook adviser. Staffers selected for these posts much exemplify journalistic interest and dependability.

NURSING EDUCATION COMES TO STATE

A new campus feature instigated with the start of the 1966-67 school year, the Nursing Education program promises to be a boon to the medical profession in this area.

The program is listed in the University catalog as a department in the School of Agriculture and Home Economics with registered nurse Dorothy Coley as its acting head.

A two-year program leading to the Associate in Arts degree with a major in nursing education, the requirements for enrollees are the same generally as for any other academic department in the University.

Degree candidates are required to complete a minimum of 142 hours of other college courses in general education and a minimum of 50 quarter hours in Nursing Education.

The Department has obtained contractual agreements with Meharry Medical College, Clover Bottom Home and Central State Hospital for practical laboratory experiences for its students.

Minimum age for admission is 18, but beyond that requirement there is no age limit. Adults, male and female, many years out of high school, may find the offerings attractive and suitable to their needs in their quests for new job horizons.

Students in the Nursing Education program are not isolated from other campus features, but rather are encouraged to participate in as many University activities as they desire.

Graduates of the program are eligible to take the State board examination to obtain the registered nurse (R.N.) certificate.

OMPER CONDUCTED IN TWO SESSIONS

The University's 1966-67 Office of Manpower Policy, Evaluation and Research Program, directed by Hayes Howard, was conducted in two 22-week sessions.

Unemployed and underemployed adults from East, West and Middle Tennessee attended the sessions, with a total of 70 men and women in the April 14 to September 2 session and 56 in attendance in the September 12 to February 10 sessions.

Enrollees were given practical teaching in park services, butchering meats, commercial foods, and custodial maintenance. Counseling services during period of training and job-placement upon completion of the program were featured benefits of the trainees.

CAMPUS VISITORS REPRESENT VARIED CAREERS

A generous share of campus visitors is boasted by the University for the 1966-67 school year.

Visitors came as individuals and in groups representing many walks of life with their sundry share of reasons for being here.

Institutional Research Director Dr. Nebraska Mayes (center), hosts campus guest speakers M. G. Eurick, local Office of Employment Director; Wm. F. Majnihan, Council of Commercial Agencies Director, and County Tax Assessor Clifford Allen.

KINDERGARTEN PROGRAM IS NEW

Children of the kindergarten-age level were accepted for pre-school training for the first time this year. The program comes under the jurisdiction of the Home Economics Department. Pupils enrolled made weekly "Field Trips" to various academic departments for talks and demonstrations on their level by University Professors.

Recruiting for the Marine Corps, Lt. James M. Griffin, a Tennessee State alumnus, talks with students Brenda Henry and Melvin Knox.

David O'Rear, Western Electric Company service manager, visited the campus to award his company's annual grant to junior mechanical engineering major Edward Kitrell. M.E. department head Mrs. Yvonne Clark was on hand for presentation.

The National NAACP treasurer and a local NAACP official were brought to the campus as speakers by the Student Council. S.C. prexy Obie McKenzie and Loretta Kincaide chat with the visitors.

Visiting the campus as an American Education Week lecturer was Chattanooga school principal Dr. C. C. Bond (left), shown with School of Education Dean Dr. M. D. Williams, Mrs. Eura Lockridge of the Psychology faculty, and president W. S. Davis.
