Notes

This site is a clearinghouse for a number of scholarship opportunities. Students will need to make accounts and provide information on their activities for better matching

Similar to Fast Web in its operation.

Similar to Fast Web in its operation.

This is specific to scholarships available through UNCF, some of which will be visible in the clearinghouse sites as well.

Students must have a 3.5 or higher; next application round will begin in the Fall of 2022.

Specific to undergraduate students.

This site provides information to help students figure out their educational paths, and then it also offers scholarship opportunities through its clearinghouse.

Another clearinghouse, but it also has a feature through which students can develop lists of scholarships they have found for different circumstances (one list is specific to left-handers) Though Sallie Mae is a student loan company, its site also offers information on scholarship opportunities.
